Soviets Threaten Further Restrictions On Allied Traffic

By OMER ANDERSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BERLIN, April 2.—(INS)— Giant U. S. Army transport planes winged into Berlin on "subway schedule" today, loaded with food and supplies to circumvent Soviet inspection of rail and truck transport.

Up to 4 p. m. (10 a. m. EST)
21 craft had landed at Berlin's Tempelhof airfield from Frankfurt. Seventeen of them carried a total of 54,000 pounds of food.

German Trains Clear
German trains loaded with coal and food continued to operate normally from the Western zones to supply the German population.

Four passenger planes were in the caravan that came in to Tempelhof at 15-minute intervals.

Among the passengers were about 100 persons who were turned back to Frankfurt by rail yesterday. They had been aboard the train "Berliner" which was stopped by the Russians at Marienborn for checking.

When American soldiers refused to let the Soviets aboard the "Berliner" went back to Frankfurt.

At least 20 transport planes are to be cleared from the Rhine-Main field alone during the way.

Defy Reds
The aerial fleet was sent into Berlin in direct defiance of the new Soviet regulations calling for inspection of all persons and shipments aboard railway trains enter-

Wallace Followers Are Losing Offices

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)— Followers of Henry A. Wallace today are being removed from office in the United Steelworkers Political Action Committee, according to USW-PAC's Director John J.
Mullen.

Mullen's announcement yesterday, was the first official disclosure that the Steelworkers Division of the PAC would remove aides who opposed a CIO executive board decision on the Third Party. "The decision reaffirmed the CIO's refusal to support that Third party."

Mullen said, "we will take the same action as Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the USW, used in California to remove persons from office who fail to follow the decisions of the CIO executive board."

Mullen was referring to the removal of Harry Bridge, west coast supporter of Wallace.

Marshall Appeal Lauded In Bogota

Secretary's Speech Seeking Understanding Of US Position Draws Praise

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 2.—
Secretary of State Marshall won high praise today among delegates to the Inter-American conference for his frank appeal for understanding of the United States' present world position.

After his formal address to the Bogota conference, which was heard by the delegates in silence, Marshall put away his text and spoke to the assemblage in confidence.

He asked that the delegates give greater consideration to the position confronting the United States and outlined Washington's reasons for giving priority to the European recovery program.

This straightforward statement was greeted with loud applause.

Marshall drove home these chief points:

1. That the United States taxpayer is bearing the brunt of defense of democracies, including Latin American states.
2. Pressure groups should not be organized among nations seeking to divert the U. S. from its present purpose.
3. The western hemisphere can and will develop trade which will bring prosperity to all.

Marshall explained that the U. S. taxpayer cannot go on bearing the entire expense of restoring peace and fostering prosperity.

His frankness aroused the admiration of diplomats not used to the open diplomacy which Marshall generally favors.

Seizure Powers May Be Sought To End Strike

Administration Reported May Ask Re-Enactment Of Seizure Laws

OFFICIALS THINK INJUNCTION WEAK

WASHINGTON, April 2.—
Administration officials are reported today to have weighed the possibility of asking Congress to re-enact government seizure powers to end the soft coal strike.

Federal seizure of the mines is understood to have been one of the subjects touched on in an "exploratory" conference between President Truman and key officials before the Chief Executive left for Wil-

Must Keep Rural Box Approaches In Good Condition

Postmaster William R. Hanna today issued an appeal to rural mail patrons to fix up the approaches to their mail boxes, so that the carrier can reach them

The postal regulations stipulate that the responsibility for keeping rural mail boxes and their approaches in good condition rests with the patrons. The carrier is

Pennsylvania Groups Voice General Approval Of $300,000,000 Aid Program

By JACK WARD
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 2.—Pennsylvania education groups today voiced general approval of a $300-million federal school-aid measure
now before Congress.

Officials of the state department of public instruction declined to make known their views on the proposal to subsidize education on the national level, but one spokesman admitted that "educators in general like the measure."

The Pennsylvania State Grange was the only group of those surveyed to express flat opposition to the proposal, terming it "nationalization" of the school system.

U. S. Sen. Edward Martin (R)
Pa., has voiced frank disapproval of the aid bill, but for a different reason. He has described it as not in line with the "strictest economy" necessary to weather the current world crisis.

Full Support Educators directly affected by the bill have thrown their full support behind its passage.

Harvey Gayman, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education association, said the group was "supporting the bill 100 per cent without amendment."

"Education is neither a local nor state issue," he asserted. "It is the broadest interstate commerce commodity in America."

The position of our statesmen must be on that basis rather than their traditional provincial stand."

Gayman pointed out that during World War II the armed forces
"spent millions of dollars" and aboard the yacht Williamsburg.

When the vessel was delayed by heavy fog on the Potomac river,
Mr. Truman arranged to continue his trip by motor.

House Acts Fast, Vote Is 311-88, Senate To Concur

Veto Message Says Bill Shows "Reckless Disre- gard" For Economy

FIRST TAX OUT SINCE 1945

House Wastes No Time In Speeches, Senate Action Expected This After- noon

By FELIX COTTEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—
President Truman vetoed the four billion 800 million dollar tax reduction bill today and the House promptly overrode the veto.

The House vote was 311 to 88. This was 45 votes more than needed to override.

The Senate was expected to pass the measure over the veto by mid-afternoon, giving the nation its first tax slash since 1945.

The House acted on the veto without debate and similar swift action was scheduled in the Senate.

The chief executive in his third tax cut veto message, charged that the bill shows a "reckless disregard" for the soundness of the nation's economy at a time of "uncertainty" and "danger," with the chances of world peace staked on America's strength.

Cannot Sign
The president said that if he could "conscientiously approve tax reductions" he would gladly do so.
He added:

"But I am convinced that to reduce the income of the government by five billion dollars at this time would exhibit a recklessness disregard for the soundness of our economy and the finances of our government."

The chief executive told congress:

"It is a bad policy to reduce taxes in a manner which would encourage inflation and bring greater hardship, not relief, to our people."

"It is bad policy to endanger the soundness of our national fi-

Don't throw away your flannel, don't let the furnace die, keep in some heat, say just a spot, to keep the building dry. For April is a viper who laughs and frowns be- times, and in a week she makes you think of half a dozen things. That overcoat is handy to have about a while, don't let this April fool you with her charming ways and guile. She'll warm you in the morning and freeze you in the late, so keep that furnace in top friend, the weather's best friend.

Expect Passage Of Foreign Aid Bill By Tonight

Six Billion Dollar Measure Seen In Final Passage Today By House, Senate

By RAYMOND WILCOVE

WASHINGTON, April 2.—The House and Senate are expected to vote final passage before nightfall of the momentous bill providing six billion dollars worth of American aid to help Europe and China halt the rising tide of communism.

Quick action by both houses was predicted today after Senate-House conferees worked until midnight to complete the final form of the foreign aid measure.

The compromise report was filed at 12:02 a. m., ending a 14-hour conference meeting.

Wildcat Strike In Butler Plant

BUTLER, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Some 1,000 Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing Co. employees were idled today by a wildcat strike of 400 men in the erection plant.

Company officials said the dispute was over production of domestic cars. The company said it set a schedule of 20 cars while the men are demanding an 18 car schedule at the same pay scale.

A meeting between the company and officials of CIO United Steelworkers, Local 1415 is scheduled for late today.

of a court injunction in an effort to halt the 10-day walkout of 400,000 miners.

It is not expected that the administration will request seizure authority unless other methods fail.

Some officials are known to feel that an injunction in the coal case may prove ineffective and they are thinking of seizure as the ultimate solution.

Legislation already has been introduced in the House to renew for one year the government's wartime power to take over and operate struck plants or industries.

Under the Taft-Hartley law, Mr. Truman is empowered to seek an 80-day court injunction against a strike imperiling the national welfare after a board of inquiry reports.

Released Later

The President's coal board made its report two days ago, but the White House said the document will not be made public until after Mr. Truman returns from Williamsburg tomorrow.

Charles C. Ross, presidential news secretary, said the Chief Executive will study the coal report carefully during his absence from the capital.

Justice department officials are ready to apply for an injunction when the President gives the signal.

Before leaving Washington last night, Mr. Truman canvassed all angles of the coal case with Attorney General Clark, Interior Secretary Krug, Labor Secretary Schweikert, Federal Mediation Director Ching, and Dr. John R. Steelman, assistant to the President.

passage will be completed today. Rep. Eaton (R) N. J., added that the measure will be on President Truman's desk for signature when the Chief Executive returns from Williamsburg, Va., tomorrow morning.

Breakdown Given
Vandenberg and Eaton, chairmen of the congressional foreign committees, headed the Senate-House conference which agreed on a bill providing American aid as follows:

European recovery program, for 16 western European nations and western Germany, five billion 300 million dollars.

China, relief and rehabilitation, 338 million dollars.

China, military, 125 million dollars.

Greece, military, 200 million dollars.

Trieste, relief, 20 million dollars.

International children's fund, 60 million dollars.

The conferees narrowly missed the administration's deadline of April 1 but worked out a compromise aid program ahead of the crucial April 18 Italian elections, threatened by the Communists.

American supplies will start flowing overseas as soon as President Truman signs the bill which permits immediate expenditure of a billion dollars even before actual appropriations are made.

The conference eliminated a House provision inviting Spain to share in the aid program which the Communists had started to use as propaganda in their campaign to win the Italian elections.

The suggestion that the Russians are planning more measures in their campaign to embarrass the Western nations followed a reiteration by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States Commander, that Americans will stay in Berlin.

abilities are great in an unsettled world.

The chief executive asserted that the tax cut would undermine government finances at a time when world peace depends upon the strength of the United States.

Have To Borrow
The president declared that the tax cut, retroactive to Jan. 1, would force the government again to borrow money to meet expenditures "even under the more optimistic estimates of revenues used by the congressional committees."

Mr. Truman said that 3.5 billion dollars had been added to expenditure estimates for the next fiscal year since he submitted the January budget. The president continued:

"It is clear that, if this bill which reduces taxes by five billion dollars were to become law, there would be a deficit in the fiscal year 1949 even under the more optimistic estimates of revenues used by the congressional committees."

"The congress proposes to extricate itself from this situation by charging three billion dollars of 1949 expenditures under the European recovery program against the 1948 revenues."

Might Cause Deficit
"This might avoid a deficit in 1949. But the facts cannot be obscured by the fiscal slight of hand by which a prospective deficit in 1949 is made to appear as a surplus."

The president declared that "if I endorse tax reduction now, knowing that to do so would in all likelihood mean increased taxes next year, I would not be dealing fairly with the American people."

He said: "I am convinced that to reduce the income of the government by five billion dollars at this time would exhibit a reckless disregard for the soundness of our economy and the finances of our government." The chief executive continued:

"My fundamental objection to the bill is that it would not strengthen, but instead would weaken, the United States."

He said this was true for two reasons, first that it would reduce revenues to the point of forcing the financing and second that it would "greatly increase the danger of further inflation by adding billions of dollars of purchasing power."

Warning congress not to gamble with the dangers of further inflation, the president declared:

"From the viewpoint of the average family which spends most of its income to buy the necessities of life, the kind of tax reduction which this bill provides will be an evil in disguise."

"The consumer price index, which was 159 for 1947 as a whole, was 167.5 in February, 1948, and preliminary figures indicate that it was even higher in March. A large tax reduction at this time would help drive the cost of living still higher."

Deaths Of The Day

John Smolarek

John Smolarek, aged 81 years, Hillsville, died this morning at eight o'clock at his residence as the result of an illness of four months.

He was born June 6, 1866, in Poland, and resided for the past 48 years in the Hillsville district. The deceased, who had been employed as a blacksmith by the Lake Erie Limestone company, was retired. He was a member of St. Lawrence church, Hillsville.

Survivors include his widow, Mrs. Anne Smolarek, and a number of nieces and nephews.

The body has been removed to the Cunningham funeral home, Bessemer, where friends will be received at any time. The body will be removed Sunday evening at 10 o'clock to Detroit, Mich., for funeral services.

Mrs. H. E. Bell

Mrs. Louisa Moore Bell, aged 75 years, widow of H. E. Bell, died suddenly this morning at four o'clock at her residence, 364 Spruce street, Sharon.

Born December 1, 1872, at Wensbury, Staffordshire, England, she was a daughter of the late William and Sophia Moore. The deceased had been a resident of Sharon for the past 45 years. Previous to that time she had resided in New Castle. Mrs. Bell was a member of the Sharon Bible class.

Survivors include two daughters, Miss Mildred Bell, at home, and Mrs. Lenora S. Sharon, and sister, Mrs. Matilda Wallbank, Sharon, two grandchildren and number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the late residence with Brother William Neely officiating. Interment will take place in Graceland cemetery, New Castle.

The body will be removed from the McConnell funeral home to the late residence, where friends will be received at any time after four o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Frank Conzoli
Mrs. Philimino Noschese Conzoli, aged 74, 1036 Center avenue, Ellwood City, died in the Ellwood City hospital at 6:45 o'clock, following a lingering illness of three months' duration.

Mrs. Conzoli was a member of the B. V. M. church, Ellwood City, and the Corona D'Italia Woman's Club of Ellwood.

She is survived by her husband, Frank Conzoli; two sons, Joseph Escoc, Ellwood City; Charles Escoc, Detroit, Mich.; three daughters, Mrs. Louise Reese, Ellwood City; Mrs. Sadie Alastro, Ellwood City; and Mrs. Mary Rich, Amsterdam, N. Y.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a. m. from the Patton funeral home in Ellwood City to the late residence, 1036 Center avenue, where friends may call after 2 p. m. today.

COUNCIL TO PAVE

North Mercer street between Washington and North streets. Sheridan avenue between Highland avenue and Neshannock boulevard.

Plans Approved
Plans for the improvements already have been approved. The bids will rule whether or not all of the work will be done this year.

Council approved purchase of a one-ton truck from the Francis Motor Sales for street department use at a bid of $1,439.63, less federal tax.

Council also approved a comprehensive insurance policy from the Reid agency and ordered the cost, $1,513.21, paid.

The council further instructed Assistant City Solicitor Robert Jameson to arrange for the sale of a lot, triangular in shape, to the Standard Steel Spring company. The lot is situated between the U. E. & F. and spring companies' properties.

City Engineer John Z. Street reported he checked the petition from Harrison Street property owners who favor paving between East Washington and Williams streets. He stated total frontage represented was 78 per cent, and total owners signed, 79 per cent. Upon motion of Streets Director Gibson the city engineer was authorized to prepare plans and specifications for the paving. The motion was seconded by Safety Director R. I. Davis, and adopted.

Widen Sampson
Council Gibson introduced an ordinance calling for the widening of Sampson street, 150 feet north of the intersection with Grant street, to 54 feet, and widening Grant street, from the intersection of Sampson street, to 60 feet along the Kaufman estate property. It was sent to committee and reported back favorably.

Upon motion of Councilman Gibson there was reported favorably from committee an ordinance changing the channel lines of the Neshannock creek where the new bridge abutments are to be built. A copy of the ordinance will be sent to the state water and power board for inspection and approval.

directors of this division are named by the directors instead of being elected by the membership at large as is customary with the other sixteen divisions.

The retiring president Ivor V. Davis presided at the meeting of the directors. Executive Vice President Jacob C. Wachman presented a report of the year's activities.

Mr. Round, the incoming president, has been active in the G.N.C.A. since its inception, and was in fact one of the group which first originated the idea of the organization. Following his election he spoke briefly asking the co-operation of the directors and members with the idea of a better New Castle as the goal.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

Another gesture to the Italian people so that they may see the wisdom of voting for western democracy instead of communism in their April 18 elections was recorded today.

France has agreed to revise the Italian peace treaty and return to them the great hydro-electric power plant of Moncenisio—a vital cog in the nation's industry.

This was awarded to France by the treaty commission as an eminently fair act of reparations in exchange for Benito Mussolini's stab in the back.

It was protested by the Italians on the grounds that such stripping down would gravely hinder Italy's attempts at economic recovery.

Many Italian authorities branded such punishment as short-sighted as it merely made heavier the burden assumed by the west in helping their country back on its feet.

Return of the Moncenisio plant is expected to have an important effect on electoral feeling in the industrial north.

Action of the United States in giving Italy 20 Liberty ships without payment is reported to have made a deep impression even on the Port of Genoa, which is an outstanding Communist stronghold.

Outcome of the elections continues in the realm of utmost speculation and probably will remain so until the ballots are counted.

Communist propaganda and electioneering have lost none of their vigor. But there at least are some signs that by positive action the western democracies are making headway.

This seems to prove itself by the fact that Communist speakers are talking opening of an armed rebellion if they lose which indicates the depth of their fears.

The issue of the Marshall plan in Italy cuts across all party lines. A recent poll of public opinion, however gives a fairly clear picture.

Landowning peasants voted 76 per cent in favor; office and clerical employees, 76 per cent in favor; professional workers, 85 per cent in favor.

Among industrial workers the division was 47 per cent for, 32 per cent against and 21 per cent undecided. Among landless peasants, the vote was 47 per cent in favor, 18 per cent against and 35 per cent undecided.

The undecided ones, of course, are the chief targets of electioneering from both sides and some spectacularly dramatic and appealing.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

How promptly do you pay your bills?

It's none of my business, of course, but maybe this excerpt from an editorial in the Westport, Conn. Town Crier may make you think, as it made me think.

A little consideration would perhaps show those who suffer from enervia of the check book that they are not doing as they would have people do to them," says the Town Crier. "It may be hard for them to realize, but the grocer cannot say to his clerks when they come for their weekly pay, 'Charge it.' If he did, the bus driver nor to the landlord. Neither can the grocer continue to say 'Charge it' to his jobbers, unless his checks come through with some regularity."

Here is a quirk of human nature. Again I quote the Westport Town Crier:

"The paradox is that many persons well able to pay their bills are the slowest to do so.

"The medium-income Westporter is likely to pay his bills rather promptly, we are informed. Maybe this is because he fears that unless he does so, once he gets behind he will never be able to get off the treadmill.

"Perhaps, by the same reasoning in reverse, many people with ample incomes feel that their funds will always be there, let their bills go unpaid for two, three and even sometimes twelve months."

Some years ago one of the swankiest markets in Newport, R. I., summer home of millionaires, went into bankruptcy.

Its customers were almost entirely the wealthy segment of that summer colony. If they had paid their bills promptly, there would have been plenty of assets to keep the store open.

But many of their accounts had been running for months, quite a few for years.

"Why didn't you insist on payment and sue if necessary?" the proprietor was asked.

"If I had done that I would have had to close a long time ago," he replied. "They would have been so insulted at my nerve that I would have lost all my trade."

I used to be an inveterate offender myself. Like so many of us I liked nice things and kept on going into debt.

One morning, before I left the house I used to look out the window to see whether there was anybody who looked like a summons-server waiting for me. Sometimes there was and then I sneaked out through the basement entrance.

My wife stopped that and after a while we didn't owe a nickel to anybody and never bought anything for which we could not pay cash.

Now I don't have any trouble sleeping nights and when I leave the house I go out the front door. If anybody is waiting for me it isn't a subpoena server but a Fuller brush man or some other salesman.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN CHILD SHOWS SELF-RELIANCE

In most children, from two to five may be considered the age of independence. "Dear holy God, please take care of daddy and mummy and baby sister, but don't take care of me. I can do it myself."

So a certain little girl, three, sometimes prays at night, according to her mother who says this child is "independent to a degree where she refuses to be helped to solve any of her problems, although she will softly cry to herself in despair.

Refuses To Change

"She cannot accept criticism no matter how kindly it is given, but will argue, whine, or cry desperately, refusing to change her mood or ways.

"She is extremely intelligent, has a very mature vocabulary, dresses herself and helps me with little tasks or getting things for the baby, and has a creative imagination. However, she is unbelievably selfish toward her little sister 23 months old, although I tried to prevent this by showing her more affection than I give the sister, but she screams if the latter goes within three feet of her possessions. She is generous with adults.

"She always spurned any show of affection from her daddy or me until the last year. Now she accepts it from us but refuses any display of fondness from her little sister who loves her very dearly and who is most generous.

To No Avail

"I used to be calm and gentle, but now after trying to be kind and gently firm to no avail, I scold and spank and 'fly off the handle.' I know it is doing no good but she has made me a nervous wreck. I shall accept and follow most carefully any advice you may give me."

"I wrote her personally. Except for this child's originality there is nothing very unusual in this account of her. All children around three express considerable independence and are normally self-reliant, especially toward a younger brother or sister. Unselfishness is not born, it is learned and usually comes slowly.

Younger Sister

Apparently the existence of the younger sister causes this older child to be more resistant to any suggestions from you. Naturally she gets her fear that God might do for her what she wants to do for herself, from observing you. Please don't consider this item in her prayer as irrelevant. As she grows older she will recognize more of her limitations, even the limitations of all human beings, and will probably feel the need of leaning against the "arms of the Almighty."

Try to capitalize on her year for independence and self-reliance; a precious trait. So long as she is doing no real harm to herself or anybody else, or to property, let her do things her own way. It is fine that she is enjoying some show of affection from you parents. Be generous with it, not only through fondling her but also through smiles, tender words and tones of endearment, listening attentively to what she says and enjoying her creations and achievements. Be very generous with deserving praise. See that the baby does not mess up her things.

Try to list your commands and the few things she must never do, making requests of what you wish her to do and treating them as real requests explained in my bulletin, "Stubbornness." Then, perhaps, you can be once quiet, calm, gentle, lovely self again enjoying this lovely little girl. Best wishes.

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

Odd Variety Of Supporters

MADISON, Wisconsin — When you ask why Gen. Douglas MacArthur has taken hold here in Wisconsin, you get a wide variety of answers.

One obvious reason is that he is claimed as a native son. That sentimental appeal is heralded on billboards throughout the state.

Want Strong Man
But his popular appeal is more than that. It seems to come out of the desire for a strong man, for a leader who is above politics. It is part of what, for lack of a better name, might be called the generalissimo jitters that seems to have shaken the country.

One symptom is a kind of unhappy fatalism—a fear that war with Russia is coming and that therefore we had better have a General in the White House. This is a warning of the sad state to which our political life has sunk.

MacArthur's supporters are trading heavily on this fatalism. They talk of the super-duper power of their hero both as military man and administrator. In faraway Tokyo, MacArthur can scarcely know what they are claiming in his name. It is only fair to assume that he would be startled and shocked by some of the lurid talk.

The oddest collection of individuals turn up in the MacArthur camp, including isolationists, reactionaries, shrewd politicians, idealists and those on the political fringe who skirt close to fascism. The list of contributors published here the other day included Gen. Robert E. Wood of Chicago, former head of America First, who gave $1,350. Frank Gannett, Rochester, N. Y., publisher, was down for $3,000.

Other Contributors
A. W. Dilling, divorced husband of Elizabeth Dilling of "Red Network" notoriety, was down for $100. A contributor named Robert Harrison, down for $1,000, is presumed here to be the New York cotton broker who was at one time an active backer of Father Coughlin. Harrison is motoring in the West and could not be reached.

At his office in New York I was told he was for MacArthur but they could not verify whether he had made the contribution.

One of the General's most ardent followers, and a candidate for delegate-at-large on the MacArthur slate in Wisconsin, is former Gov. Philip F. La Follette. La Follette talks about the power inherent in MacArthur's personality, his genius, his brilliance.

Having served on MacArthur's staff through the ordeal of the war, La Follette's passion could be put down to simple hero worship. But those with long memories recall that he has always been attracted by power and the spectacular trappings of power. It was just ten years ago that La Follette staged a giant rally here in Madison to launch, with gaudy flourishes, a new national party that seemed to many to be patterned after the mass Fascist parties of Europe.

Served Under Him
Not only Phil, as he is known throughout the state, but his son, Robert M. La Follette III, is active for MacArthur. The latter spoke recently at a forum at the University of Wisconsin, where a Veterans-Against-MacArthur Club is said to have 400 members. Bob the Third, himself a Pacific veteran, served under MacArthur in Japan for several months.

Another MacArthur apostle is Fred R. Zimmerman, Wisconsin Secretary of State and a potent vote-getter. Zimmerman, who has undergone many political transformations in his career, ran in '40 and '44 as a delegate for Thomas E. Dewey and led the ticket.

Zimmerman talks about the need to keep a Christian America and he champions MacArthur against Communism. This last is a familiar line. Carl Flom, a MacArthur delegate candidate, hailed the General as the "super-military genius" (Continued on Page Seven)

At The Hearing

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 2.—At 10:20 a. m. the 10 o'clock hearing on Universal Military Training began to get under way. Only two members of the 13-men Senate Armed Service Committee were present. They were Senators Gurney and Saltonstall. Senator Baldwin pulled in about 10:30 and Senator Byrd, the only Democrat to favor this administration measure with his presence, showed up a full hour late.

I give these details and the narrative to follow because I am describing a typical Senate hearing. It is at such hearings that Senators are supposed to make up their minds about important matters of state. But my observation is that committee members attend in about the same proportion and for the same reasons that ordinary spectators do. It takes big names, a scandal, a sensation or a touch of comedy to fill the seats at the committee table and in the auditorium. The importance of the matter under discussion—UMT is of tremendous importance—seems to make little or no difference.

First witness of the day was a 21-year-old Harvard senior, Don S. Willner, who came to protest UMT in the name of the Students of Democratic Action. Young Willner began by assuring the committee that he was no Communist and was all in favor of national defense. But he feared that UMT would militarize American youth and in time change the whole nature of the American people. He was making a pretty fair case for himself when the committee started shooting at him. How did he feel about Selective Service? Well, said Willner, his organization hadn't taken a stand on Selective Service. What was his personal opinion? Young Willner blushed and squirmed in the witness chair. He preferred not to answer the question.

By this time any habitual attendee of hearings could spot Willner as a recognizable type of witness. He was spokesman for a pressure group, in this case a group of do-gooders who might very easily be subverted by the wrong kind of leadership. He was a sincere, idealistic kid who believed that boys and girls of his class had a mission to save mankind from the folly of war. But he and his kind, it seemed clear, were skating on the thin ice of pacifism—to the aid and comfort of a potential enemy nation.

Next witness was a sharp young lawyer named Seymour Linfield, representing the Wallace-for-President Committee. Senator Gurney, the committee chairman, asked him if he'd ever been a Communist. Linfield went into a long spiel about his constitutional rights to keep his religious and political beliefs to himself. That was no answer to the question, said Gurney. Yes, it was, said Linfield. There was quite an argument over this point, and Linfield gave as good as he took.

He, too, was a recognizable type. Another pressure group witness, but no dreamy idealist this time. The Harvard boy had been against war and militarism, but Linfield was against almost everything the country stood for. His prepared statement was a ripping attack upon Henry Wallace's now-familiar vilification of the Wall Streeters and the military men in the administration. Just for good measure, Linfield let fly at the "bipartisan coalition," which, he said, was driving an unwilling country down the road to war. Senator Baldwin took a big pipe out of his mouth and said: "Let me assure you that when the national safety is at stake, there will always be a bipartisan coalition in Congress." The small audience applauded. Baldwin went back to puffing his pipe, looking very pleased.

Third and final witness was a clergyman, A. Powell Davies, D. D. There was nothing of the pressure group about this man. He said he spoke for himself, an American citizen and a churchman. He admitted at the outset that UMT and selective service might hasten us into war. But there were worse things than war. Defeat was worse. Dishonor was worse. Enslavement to dictatorship was worse. He said he'd been in Prague, as Jan Masaryk's guest, during the Communist coup. He'd come away convinced that militant Communism could only be stopped by militant Democracy. He spoke of pacifists, both in and outside the church. They were people, he said, not afraid to kill, but afraid to die. His calm, twangy voice carried a note of something that hadn't been evident in the foregoing witnesses. It carried the quiet throb of patriotism.

This, then, was a typical hearing. No klieg lights, no celebrities, no circus atmosphere. But it gave a cross-section of American thought on UMT and other war measures. It presented the pacifist, the obstructionist and the patriot. All three of them said things to which the nine absentee committee members could have listened with profit. State Police Say—

Another dangerous spring-time driving hazard is the soft shoulder, or berm, along the improved portion of the highway. The driver who permits his vehicle to drop off the hard road surface onto these soft shoulders is very likely to crash before he gets it under control, especially if he is traveling fast. In such cases do not forcibly apply the brakes but remove the foot from the accelerator and apply the brakes gently. Do not cut the wheels sharply but wait until your speed has been reduced to 10 or 15 miles per hour then pull back onto the highway.

The World and the Mud Puddles

FAILURES OF GOVERNMENTS.

It seems to be a peculiar weakness of human nature to abandon the plain lessons of experience in favor of the allurements of theory. When employers advertise for help, as a rule, they demand experience of the applicants. When individuals hire physicians or mechanics, or start bank accounts, they usually favor those who have made some demonstration of trustworthiness. But when it comes to theories of government, or social conduct, there seems to be an obsession in favor of theory against experience.

Written history goes back only a few thousand years. During the period covered the world has seen numerous ideas of government put into practice. It has witnessed theocracies, oligarchies, autocracies, despotisms, experimental republics. In the long list of governmental and social experiments there is but one record of successful governmental and social endeavor. That is the Republic of the United States of America.

The relics of the Pharaohs of Egypt are only monuments to slavery; the Pyramids and the tombs of the mighty are the work of human beings below the lowest status of modern serfs. The "glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome" reek of the servility of the multitudes and the drudgery of captives. The Roman Empire and the Republic of Plato alike came to decadence and oblivion.

In modern history the pendulum has swung from benevolent autocracy to the so-called "democracy" of the communes. Both extremes have not only failed to insure justice or happiness or prosperity, but have ended in sanguinary combat among the people. Even in our own national history we have seen repeated undertakings

Mackenzie King Raps Communists

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 2. (INS)—Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada today charged Soviet Russia with "sinister plans to undermine the structure of free government within the borders of individual nations."

The Canadian premier — with President Truman sitting beside him — declared that the menace to freedom of the democracies "has never been graver or more insidious than it has become within the last three years."

Mackenzie King voiced his grim warning in an address before the College of William and Mary at a convocation observing Canadian-American day.

President Truman joined in honoring the veteran Canadian premier and Canada's governor-general, Viscount Alexander of Tunis.

Mackenzie King called upon the United States, the British Empire, and all nations still free, to unite for a common front against the spread of Communism and Russian expansionist policy.

Communist Labor Leaders Trying To Scuttle Aid Bill

PARIS, April 2.—(INS)—A determined drive by Communist labor leaders to scuttle the Marshall plan in western Europe was begun in Paris today.

The so-called national conference of committees of enterprise met in Paris. These comprise trade union delegates from virtually all French industries.

Seven thousand delegates attended. Rightwing Paris newspapers called them "action committees" or outright Soviets.

Speakers denounced the Marshall plan. Communist Gen. Benoit-Francon "will address the conference later."

He set the keynote in an article in a trade union organ appealing to the committees to "paralyze the efforts of those leading the country to ruin, chaos, unemployment, foreign domination and war."

Kiddies Prefer Story-Telling

HUNTINGTON, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—If your kiddies prefer "once-upon-a-time" stories to the more modern "send-in-a-box-top" serials, you may have to thank some Juniata College coeds.

What started as a story-telling project in a child literature course in elementary education has now become a 15-minute public service feature over radio station WHUN, Huntington.

It's a program conducted each Saturday at 10 a. m. by a member of the Alpha Beta Gamma Club, Miss Catherine A. Reimard, instructor in education, supervises the program.

SELECTING TEACHERS
STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Sixty teachers will be selected in 10 counties to attend the second annual rural education workshop at Pennsylvania State College June 28 to July 16.

The college announced today that the counties were Bedford, Berks, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Lancaster, McKean, Mifflin, Perry and Schuylkill.

INVESTITURE CEREMONY
YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 2.—(INS)—The Robes of Monsignor will be conferred upon 14 priests of the Youngstown Catholic Diocese by Bishop James A. McFadden on Sunday, in the diocese's first investiture ceremony at St. Columba's Cathedral, elevated to the rank of domestic prelate by the Pope last February.

Plan Open Forum On Highway Safety

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Motor Federation announced today an open forum on safety will highlight its annual secretaries' conference at Harrisburg April 6 and 7.

An outline of the student-driver training program is expected to attract much interest, according to Secretary R. B. Maxwell.

Participants will be Burton W. Marsh, director of the American Automobile Association's traffic engineering and safety department; D. Willard Zehn, director of the Pennsylvania Department of Transportation; William N. Anderson, traffic and safety supervisor for Pittsburgh schools; and Frank R. Cashman, driver education instructor at Carlisle high school.

RETIRED MINISTER DIES
BOILING SPRINGS, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Funeral services were being arranged today for Josiah F. Snyder, 82, retired Evangelical United Brethren minister, who died at his Boiling Springs home last night.

He left the ministry in 1936 after serving congregations at Le-masters, Oakville, Red Lion, Dun-cannon, Shiremanstown and Boiling Springs. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and a son.

Model Legislators In First Session

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—Gavel fell today in the halls of the General Assembly opening a model legislative session sponsored by the Pennsylvania Young Men's Christian Association for Hi-Y youths.

Two hundred and eight "representatives" and 50 "senators" were on hand for a joint session before retiring to their respective houses. Officers were elected and members anticipated an address by Gov. James H. Duff.

The "lawmakers" were sworn in by Dauphin County Judges Robert E. Woodside and Paul Rupp.

"Governor" Donald Cook, 17-year-old Rochester, Pa., high school student, was ready to consider legislation when it reaches his desk.

Forty-five model acts have been drafted by the schoolbody legislators.

The measure passing both houses will not reach Cook's desk until tomorrow. He has been coached by Duff on procedure.

The session will end tomorrow with a banquet.

A brown sugar sauce is delicious served with the cooked dessert.

Soviet Ambassador And Lovett Confer

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Russian Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin left a 35-minute conference with Acting Secretary of State Robert A. Lovett today with a brusque "no comment" on the purpose of his call.

There was no indication immediately as to whether Panyushkin was discussing the situation in Berlin as a result of the Soviet blockade.

It was also believed that Panyushkin may have protested against the delay in Russian vessels leaving New York as a result of picketing by Catholic War Veterans.

WOMAN BURNS TO DEATH
RIDLEY PARK, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Mrs. Charles R. Berg was burned to death today when the mattress of her bed caught fire at nearby Prospect Park. Firemen blamed the blaze on a defective bedlamp cord.

Doughnuts are delicious when heated, sliced and spread with cream cheese and chopped nuts.

Sixty per cent of all taxes in Argentina are paid by persons making less than $1,800 a year.

Air Force Develops New B-29 Bomber

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Air Secretary Symington said today that the air force has developed a B-29 bomber which can fly a 4,600-mile mission with a fifteen-ton bomb load under combat conditions.

Symington also said that the three billion dollar increase in appropriations requested for the armed services will enable the air force to purchase an additional 500 or 600 planes. This will bring the total addition under the present budget to about 1,500 or 1,600 new planes. The secretary's announcement was made at a news conference.

He revealed that two B-29's, of a type now in production, on two different occasions last week flew 2,300 miles from their base and returned to their home station with a large gasoline reserve.

'Aggressive Peace Needed', F.D.R. Jr.

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., has advocated an "aggressive peace."

The late president's son denounced President Truman's recent "Stop Communism" speech and said the draft and universal military training reflect "the defensive attitude."

Young Roosevelt said he believes "we can and should do business with Russia."

He said the United States should send a commission to Russia to study the possibility of developing economic relations with the Soviet, and a similar commission from the USSR should be asked to study American business.

Concerning the Palestine situation, Roosevelt said he thought that the failure of the U. S. to carry out the partition plan might mean the end of the United Nations as an effective weapon for peace.

Former Officers Want To Return

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Army and Air Force reserve officers are swamping the Pentagon building with applications to return to active duty as a result of recent developments on the international scene.

Air Force sources reported today that it has a current backlog of 5,621 applications from World War II officers, mostly pilots, who have returned to their homes but now want to get back into uniform.

The Army and Air Force both attributed a phenomenal rise in requests to President Truman's St. Patrick's Day speech to Congress calling for a temporary draft along with universal military training and the tense situation abroad.

An Air Force official said that the week following the President's address applications increased from 384 to 687. The first three days of this week 600 applications were received.

Married Couple Are Found Dead

PHILIPSBURG, N. J., April 2.—(INS)—A married couple were found dead in the basement of their home today by their 14-year-old invalid son.

The victims—Victor Mengucci, 56, and his wife, Laura, 44—died of bullet wounds shortly after the boy discovered them.

The son told state police his mother was clutching a .32 caliber pistol.

Report Soviet Planes 'Buzz' U.S. Transports

BERLIN, April 2.—(INS)—United States air force personnel at Tegelhof airfield in Berlin said today that Russian fighter craft have been "buzzing" American transports periodically.

Although there was no immediate confirmation of a report that transports flying food into Berlin after the Americans halted rail traffic were dived at the air force men said that such incidents have occurred over the past six months.

A specific incident only eight days ago was recalled.

British official quarters in Berlin also confirmed that British planes have been dived at and circled while coming through the 20-mile international air corridor across the Soviet zone of occupation.

The sling as used in warfare remained a part of the equipment of the English army until the 15th century.

The world production of sponges in 1938, last "normal" year before World War II, was estimated at more than two million pounds.

Asks Full Report On Berlin Issue

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Sen. Donnell (R) Mo., asked Congress today to call on the administration for a full report of Russia's blockade of U. S. train travel to Berlin.

Donnell introduced a resolution directing the secretaries of state and Army to submit full information about the incident, together with copies of agreements under which the U. S. occupation is conducted.

The resolution, referred by Senate President Vandenberg (R) Mich., to the foreign relations committee, would call specifically for statements about whether the rights of United States or its nationals have been infringed by the Soviet action.

It would direct the two departments to disclose full data about the arrangements under which the joint occupation of Berlin is being conducted and whether the Soviet seizure of authority over U. S. and British train travel is a violation of any agreement.

Rank And File Backing Lewis

Mitchell Day Rally In Brownsville Results In 14,000 Miners Cheering Lewis

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—The rank and file of the United Mine Workers today were still solidly behind John L. Lewis and his demands for a pension fund. At a Mitchell Day rally held in Brownsville yesterday, honoring the late John Mitchell, the man who built up the UMW, 14,000 miners cheered as Thomas Kennedy, Lewis' top assistant, told them that the Taft-Hartley Law had taken away the very freedoms it was to have guaranteed.

Kennedy, international vice-president of the union, said the present agreement between the miners and the operators was made outside the Taft-Hartley Law. Now, he charged, UMW opponents are trying to attack Lewis for an alleged violation of it.

"Did you stop working because of John L. Lewis?" he asked his audience.

"No!" roared back the miners. At another Mitchell Day rally held in New Kensington, John C. Lewis of Des Moines, Ia., told the thousands of miners present that the coal operators are "able but unwilling to give us a pension."

"Well," he said, "we're able but unwilling to work."

Woman Injured In Fall Down Stairs

Mrs. Caroline Cuba, aged 63 years, of 1939 Morris street, was badly injured, when she fell down a flight of stairs at the home of her daughter, early this morning. She was brought to the Jameson Memorial hospital for treatment at 3:45 a. m.

Examination at the hospital revealed a laceration of the scalp, fracture of the left wrist, and contusions of the left knee.

Robert Palladino, aged 16 years, of 802 Cunningham avenue, suffered an injury to the left index finger, while at work at the Re-Ly-On plant, at West Pittsburgh, Friday, when a staple ran through his finger. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where he received treatment.

Denies Murder

ACCUSED of the mutilation murder of a minister's wife at Wells, Nev., László Varga, 18-year-old Hungarian refugee, is held in the county jail at Santa Rosa, Cal., following his arrest. He admitted his identity but denied all knowledge of the crime. He was held for trial on a charge of fleeing across a state border to escape prosecution. (International)

Health Talks

BEANS—GREEN OR DRY
Beans are highly nutritious. They are a very popular article of food and are widely used.

There are many kinds and they differ somewhat in their food values.

Green or snap beans do not provide much nourishment. They are valuable mainly for their vitamins. They also help the appetite and combine well with other foods. Shelled beans either fresh or dried provide a large amount of nourishment.

They are rich in protein and starch. They also provide some fat.

When beans are baked or cooked, they should be combined with meat or milk or cheese. Thus fat is added and also the protein is taken care of better.

of communal communization, ending in loss and despair for the participants.

On trial today are two systems of government, with perhaps two or three intermediary experiments. We have just witnessed the colossal failure of statism as exemplified by Nazism and Fascism. We are withholding judgment on other experiments of Communism in Russia and her subject States, along with a tempered Socialism in Great Britain. But experience and a sense of human values leave us in no doubt as to where these experiments eventually will lead.

The one outstanding lesson of all history is that the only form of government which has survived to the greatest benefit of the greatest number is representative self-government as provided under the Constitution of the United States of America.

This should be apparent even to the most prejudiced and wishful students of history, politics and sociology. Yet strangely there persists in the minds of the academicians and the adolescent brains that adaptation of disproved and discredited philosophies of government can "improve" upon our own form of government and by some miracle brings advantages that have been denied under all other forms of government.

The supreme factor in our own system of government—lacking even in "Plato's Republic and the most advanced" theories of democracy in France and elsewhere—is protection of the individual and the minorities. "Pure Democracy" involves the absolute rule of the majority. Our Constitution wisely foresaw the abuses of this system. And today the only country in which the majority is handicapped by the rights of the minority—with all respect to British traditions—is the United States of America.

A corollary of representative government as practiced in the United States naturally is the freedom of Capitalism. Over and over it has been demonstrated that Capitalism is the only system yet devised by man which inspires and encourages progress. Yet we have wishful theorists in this country who would abandon this system and relegate us to the laissez faire policies of statism—policies which all through history have resulted in degeneration.

A burnt child, says the old proverb, dreads the fire. The trouble in this country today is that the children, not having had the actual experience of burning, persist in following theory in face of the records of practice. Perhaps the only ultimate cure is to let them be burned a little.

to rally America's 70,000,000 Christians against Communism.

A great deal of this MacArthur talk seems utterly divorced from the realities of our time. The myth-making process that comes at the end of every war enters in here.

MacArthur is one of our great generals. No one questions that. But to compare the occupation of Japan with the occupation of Germany and to say that MacArthur has mastered the Communists is to ignore the facts. Under the agreed terms of occupation, the Russians were never admitted to Japan. In Korea, part of MacArthur's command, they cause as much trouble as they do in Germany.

MacArthur may win a majority of the Republican delegates in the Wisconsin primary. That will give his presidential boom a new impetus. But he will still have a long way to go for the nomination. (Copyright, 1948, By United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Rural Areas Show Good Attendance

Township Sabbath Schools Compare Favorably In Attendance Contest

The Pulaski, Slippery Rock and Plaingrove districts participating in the eight weeks pre-Easter campaign sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association in which 75 Sunday schools were enrolled, had excellent attendances the final Sunday which was Easter. They also did well in the evangelistic, church attendance and Bible study goals.

The King's Chapel Methodist has made constructive gains recently in Pulaski district and had the record-breaking attendance of 151 Easter. Their standings follow: total points 379, total percentage 6.315. The Pulaski Methodist also did well in this district, having an Easter attendance of 75.75 total points, and a total percentage of 1.829.

In Slippery Rock district the Princeton Presbyterian was the winner, with an Easter attendance of 102.79 total points and a total percentage of 1.097. The Greenwood Methodist, also in this district, had an Easter attendance of 91 total points and a total percentage of .443.

The Plaingrove Presbyterian was the winner in Plaingrove district, having an Easter attendance of 156 total points and a total percentage of 1.323. The Plaingrove U. P. and Unity Baptist of Harlansburg, both also in Plaingrove district, have not reported their Easter attendances, as these come in on post cards. However, the word received is that both had splendid attendances and both have a good number of points. The Plaingrove U. P. already had 48 points and a percentage of .512 before Easter Sunday.

Offer Program To Reduce Toll Of Night Mishaps

Six-Point Program For Night Driving Suggested To Motorists By P.M.F. President

A six-point program was suggested to motorists today by Andrew J. Sordani, president of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, to reduce the appalling night-time accident toll and make after-dark driving less nerve-racking. He suggested that motorists:

1. Switch to the low beam well in advance of an approaching car. Don't wait for the other driver to act first.

2. Give the low beam to the man in front, as glare can be dangerous to the operator of a vehicle being approached from the rear.

3. Guide by the center line or side of the road, avoiding direct glances into blinding headlights.

4. Check front and rear lights frequently to see that they are working properly and that headlights are correctly focused.

5. Never drive knowingly with one light. Have it fixed immediately.

6. If in doubt, do as you would be done by.

Commending the Pennsylvania State Police for their efforts in checking headlights to see that they are properly adjusted and warning motorists to dim their lights as required by law, Mr. Sordani pointed out that 283,540 cars were stopped by State Police last year to make a check on the lighting system and 91,751 warning cards were issued to have adjustments made. Failure to comply with the warning cards setting a time in which adjustments were to be made resulted in the arrest of 628 motorists.

"Approximately one-third of all motorists on the highways at night either forget or refuse to dim their lights," the president of the Federation, which represents 60 affiliated AAA automobile clubs in the state, said. "Failure to do so constitutes one of the chief reasons for an appalling night-time traffic accident toll which, on a mileage basis, is estimated as three times greater than that of daytime."

Boy Legislators Guests At Dinner Tonight In Capital

HI-Y Youths Of State Who Have Taken Over Government To Be Feasted

Four hundred boy legislators, their parents and friends are joining in the legislative banquet tonight at the Penn Harris hotel in Harrisburg, which is a part of the state YMCA youth and government program. Throughout the day the boys have been busy organizing the house and senate, introducing their bills and considering bills in their committee meetings.

Lt. Governor Daniel B. Strickler is toastmaster of this evening's banquet program. He has served as the chairman of the youth and government advisory committee which has been planning this program during the past several months.

Dr. Sly Main Speaker
Dr. John F. Sly of Princeton university will be the main speaker. He has been active in the youth and government programs in New Jersey for over a decade and is very familiar with all phases of the program. The subject of his address is "Accepting Civic Responsibility."

Another guest will be C. A. Duran of the national council staff of the YMCA. He was the founder of the youth and government program 12 years ago in New York state and has done much to extend it through the various states in America.

Following the banquet the boys will attend parties at the YMCA and YWCA. The program will conclude tomorrow afternoon with a joint session of the house and senate at which time Boy Governor Donald Cook of Rochester will sign the bills that have been passed by the senate and the house.

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, April 2.—(INS)—Tyrone Power planted a smooch on Jayne Meadows today and broke a Katherine Hepburn jinx that has been dogging the actress for years.

When a gal gets kissed by Tyrone Power (in the movies, that is), Hollywood figures she has arrived.

Lively Miss Meadows—who is a dead-ringer for Katherine Hepburn—has arrived by all movie-town standards.

Luscious Lovely
Jayne beat out 23 luscious love-ies for the role of power's sweetie in "Leave It to the Irish." And she can quit worrying about Katherine Hepburn.

The daughter of a Chinese missionary explained today:

"When I was battling my brains out trying to crash Broadway, every producer in the business turned me down. They all said: 'You look too much like Katherine Hepburn.'"

Finally, when she was broke she got a break... a pint-sized part in "Spring Again" with Gladys George and C. Aubrey Smith. Next she clicked in "Madame X" and "Kiss Them for Me."

The big wheels of the film factories still showed about as much interest in Jayne as they did in the stagehands. Like their Broadway cousins, the picture producers all said: "You look too much like Katherine Hepburn."

Got Big Chance

"Then," said Miss Meadows, "Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer had a part in 'Undercurrent.' It called for a gal who looked like Hepburn, star of the picture. Who do you think I am? Little me."

M-G-M latched onto Jayne for a long-term contract. She was the lady in "Lady in the Lake." She had a nifty part in "Dark Illusion."

But when the studio needed a star like Katherine Hepburn, Katherine Hepburn always got the assignments.

So a few fortnights ago Miss Meadows made confetti out of her contract. Jayne said:

"I went back home to Sharon, Conn. Figured my movie career was washed up. I was angling to return to the stage when Twentieth Century-Fox wire and asked if I would be interested in the new Ty Power picture.

"I hopped the first plane to Hollywood."

Finally Arrives
And now all the studios in town are paging pretty Miss Meadows. After emoting as Power's pet she will trek to Samuel Goldwyn's studio. Four other screen commitments will follow.

"But not as Katherine Hepburn," she said. "From now on I'm plain Jayne Meadows. That's what a kiss from Power will do for a kid!"

Third U. P. Teachers Have Quarterly Meet

Members of the Teachers and Officers' Association of Third U. P. Bible school assembled Wednesday evening in the church for their quarterly meeting. The evening's program included a preview of lessons for the coming quarter.

Mrs. M. R. Bates conducted a devotional service. Later the members were divided into two groups for conference work. Miss Louise Campbell, director of religious education at the Eighth U. P.

church, Pittsburgh, spoke on "Children's Work." Dr. J. Paul Graham, leader for the adult group, discussed the international lessons for the quarter. There was also a display of books for all age groups from the United Presbyterian Book store, Pittsburgh.

Tasty refreshments were served later by Mrs. John Kenehan and her committee.

The group will gather at the church June 24.

The United States Constitution did not deny the vote to women, but the interpretation of the document did.

Berlin Crisis Calls For Air Arm Expansion

So Says Senator Knowland
Who Advocates 70 Group
Forces To Meet
Threat

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—Sen. Knowland (R) Calif., said today that the tense situation in Berlin "points up" the need for expanding America's air arm to a 70 group force.

Knowland and Sen. Russell (D) Ga., agreed that the Soviet moves in Berlin will increase support for an enlarged defense program.

Their views were given as the senate armed services committee, keeping posted on the German developments, called Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to testify on draft and universal military training legislation. The retired chief of staff is a staunch advocate of both.

To Carry Fight
Knowland declared that he will make a fight in the senate appropriations committee to boost President Truman's air force budget from a 55 group to a 70 group program.

There is nothing to indicate that developments of the past 48 hours might be causing Defense Secretary Forrestal to upwardly revise his request for increased manpower for the armed forces. Forrestal asked for a three billion dollar increase in the defense budget to boost the armed forces actual strength by 349,500 officers and men.

The temporary restoration of selective service is calculated to provide 220,000 men. UMT is designed as a long-range program to provide a backlog of trained men for the reserves.

Curney is expected to receive the administration's draft-UMT "single package" bill today or tomorrow. Barring some drastic worsening of the world outlook responsible senate leaders believed the draft will win quick approval but UMT will be sidetracked.

"WEAR and TEAR"

OF THE DOLLARS that run the telephone business—the dollars that you pay us in return for good telephone service at low cost—some go to pay for one expense which is called DEPRECIATION.

Most of this is simply "wear and tear."

Now let's examine "wear and tear" by taking one piece of telephone equipment with which we are all familiar—a telephone pole.

What is the "wear and tear" on a telephone pole?

The weather can rot it. A hurricane or a sleet storm can fell it. Fire can burn it down. Termites can chew it. A truck can knock it down.

We know, in other words, that "wear and tear" will, sooner or later, get the better of the telephone pole and that it will have to be replaced.

So with some of our operating dollars—the dollars you pay us, remember—we must pay for this replacement made necessary by "wear and tear." And this we are very glad to do, for, by keeping our telephone equipment in tip-top condition and by replacing it when necessary, you are assured of good telephone service at low cost.

Wampum District S.S. Association Will Meet Sunday

The Sunday schools which comprise the Wampum district of the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association will assemble on Sunday, April 4, for the spring convention in the First Pentecostal church at Wampum at 2:30 p. m.

The devotions and discussions of the afternoon will center around the theme of visual aids in the church school. The 4 o'clock business session will include the roll call of churches represented with the election of officers to follow. The evening devotions will be led by the district officers and will be preceded by a song service. Dr. John Coleman, professor of Bible and social science at Geneva college, will speak on the subject "Window Shopping for a Crimeless World". A good representation is expected from all participating churches.

DROWNS IN CREEK

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Columbia County Coroner John M. Evans today issued a verdict of accidental death after 16-month-old Robert Woolston drowned in four inches of water in a creek near his home in rural Stillwater.

The child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Woolston, said the child had wandered away from home.

Republic Steel At Warren Plans For Big Addition

YOUNGSTOWN, O., April 2.—(INS)—Plans were underway today for a $10,000,000 80-oven by-product coke plant addition to be built by Republic Steel Corporation at Warren, O.

In revealing the plans Thursday, officials said the plant is part of Republic's program to boost its Mahoning valley pig iron and steel output.

The addition will consist of two batteries of 40 Koppers ovens each. They will replace the crumbling

1-year-old section, consisting of 6 Koppers-Becker ovens at the Warren by-products plant. The plant will then have a daily capacity for carbonizing about 3,350 tons of coal and producing about 400 tons of coke.

MOISTURE CONTROL

EVANSTON, Ill. — (INS) — Two Northwestern university mechanical engineers currently are studying improvement methods of moisture conditions in cold storage warehouses. The engineers, James Millan and Richard Mann, estimate that "dry" warehouses cause the meat to dry out ten per cent faster and also give the meat a non-edible appearance. The engineers hope to perfect a low-temperature psychrometer, an instrument used to determine humidity.

Two Boys Die In Refrigerator

Find Two Youngsters Dead Of Suffocation In Old-Fashioned Ice Box

LEWISTOWN, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Death today was the winner in a game of hide-and-seek during which two Lewistown boys apparently sought concealment in a refrigerator.

The bodies of four-year-old Danile Yocum and John D. Shore, 13, were discovered in the old-fashioned ice box yesterday following a two-hour community-wide search.

The boys were pronounced dead of suffocation at the Lewistown hospital.

Mrs. Cloc Yocum, a beauty shop operator and neighbor of the victims' families, found the youngsters crouched in a three-foot high ice box which she had placed on her porch for removal.

Sanatorium Gets Aid From State Health Department

Expand Rehabilitation Service For Patients At South Mountain Announced

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—Rehabilitation service for patients of the Mont Alto Tuberculosis sanatorium at South Mountain have been expanded by the state health department.

A rehabilitation director to supervise instruction of persons afflicted with the disease and aid job placements following recovery have been provided by the Pennsylvania Tuberculosis society, a co-operating agency, the department announced.

The director will be assisted under a three-year program by social workers, occupational therapists and other personnel necessary for increased services. If the program is effective, it will be made permanent. The object of the program is to:

- (1) Provide medically approved diversional and recreational and morale building activities for patients.
- (2) aid patients to solve psychological, economic and social problems resulting from long hospitalization periods.
- (3) provide vocational counseling and guidance leading to preparation for return to society.
- (4) provide medically supervised pre-vocational training and (5) provide health education.

State Health Secretary Norris W. Vaux said he felt the service would "greatly aid the tuberculous in following medical advice and procedures, in effecting a cure and providing them with a definite plan for their future."

"Too many patients leave the sanatorium against medical advice," he said. "They fail to readapt themselves to a mode of living that is within their physical limitations, thus leading again to breakdown."

Speaker Martin Says New Taxes Will Be Voted

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., dropped a hint today that new taxes will be voted "if defense needs increase beyond what has now been outlined."

Martin's comment came as Republican leaders criticized President Truman's veto of the tax cut bill.

Martin said: "Congress recognizes the imperative need of keeping the country solvent. If defense needs increase beyond what has now been outlined we would, of course, take any necessary steps to keep a balanced budget."

Final Approval On GRP Given By House

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—The House today gave its final approval to the global recovery program which obligates the United States to spend more than six billion dollars in a worldwide economic fight against Communism.

The Senate-House conference version of the measure was swiftly passed and sent to the Senate, where enactment is expected this afternoon.

President Truman is expected to sign the bill tomorrow.

Y.W.C.A. NOTES

Mrs. Louis Gurial opened the meeting of the Italian Mothers' club Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the green room of the Y. W. C. A.

Future plans were made, and following an informal hour was enjoyed. Hostesses of the evening were Mrs. Domenick Flaminio, Mrs. James Julian, Mrs. Faust DelCastello, and they served a tasty lunch.

May 5 is the next meeting, hostesses to be Mrs. Leo Vernino and Mrs. Joe Ross.

Dr. John H. Cable Dies In Chicago

Funeral services for the late Dr. John H. Cable of Chicago, Ill., well known Bible school teacher, will be conducted Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, from the Marion Hill Christian and Missionary Alliance church, New Brighton, Pa.

Dr. Cable was born and raised in Beaver Valley and was graduated from Geneva College. He attended Bethany College and the Western Theological seminary in New York and received his S.T.B. degree from the Biblical Seminary, New York.

For 25 years, he was associated with the C. and M. A. Training Institute at Nyack, N. Y., being former dean of the institute.

The deceased is well known by Rev. J. H. Boon, of the Alliance church in this city and many other Nyack students, who studied under him.

Psychoanalyst Is Aid To Children School Head Says

DOYLESTOWN, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Dr. Mabel G. Kessler, assistant superintendent of schools of Montgomery county, believes too many teachers are apt to condemn a child when the child really needs to be psychoanalyzed.

New York Stocks MARKET PRICES DRIFT LOWER

Profit-Taking Is Cause Of Slight Market Drop, Strike Spreading

NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—Stock prices drifted lower today as the Wall Street strike spread to major brokerage firms. After an opening burst of activity, trading quieted down considerably.

Losses were restricted to about 1/2 point on the average. Selling was largely profit-taking on the substantial advance of the three preceding sessions.

Chemicals, this week's strongest section, were weakest before noon. Du Pont and Union Carbide each reacted a point. Another recent buoyant section—coppers—drifted into lower ground. Steels, oils, rails and aircrafts were shaved fractionally. Motors resisted selling.

Curb shares and big board bonds tended lower. Commodities held steady.

So closely did Jesus identify Himself with the city of Capernaum, a town of Galilee often mentioned in the gospel history, that it is called "His own city".

The United States is due for a big increase in population. Primo Carnera, we read, has bought a permanent home in Los Angeles.

Local Students Will Take Part In Musical Fete

Seven Young New Castle Musicians
To Participate In Slippery Rock Festival

On Saturday evening, April 17th, the Midwestern District Chorus will present a music festival in the chapel of State Teachers College at Slippery Rock, Pa. This chorus is made up of approximately 160 singers representing 42 high schools in the counties of Beaver, Butler, Clarion, and Lawrence, and Mercer. The program used is that set up by the State for use in all chorus festivals. The sponsoring organization is the Penna. Music Educators Association which has as its goal the improvement of public school music in Penna. Students profit from the organization in that they are brought together in festivals with those who share a common interest—not only those musicians of their own level who have shown proficiency, but also Music Educators and Directors of reput.

Those participating in the festival will arrive in Slippery Rock on Thursday morning and be the guests of the residents of Slippery Rock until Saturday evening. They will rehearse in the College Chapel Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in preparation for the concert Saturday evening.

Miss Mary Muldowney of the Department of Music, Indiana State Teachers College will be guest conductor. She is an accomplished conductor of chorus festivals, having conducted summer festivals at the University of Michigan and public school choruses in various states. The guest soloists will be two students from Indiana State Teachers College.

Those students representing New Castle High School are:

Olive Black,
Peggy Ezzo,
Lois Baum, Jeane Fogarty,
Ronald Saylor,
Edward Carik,
John Stoflick.

Bakerstown Pastor To Address Youth At C. M. A. Rally

Eight Alliance Churches Of District Will Unite At Castlewood Tabernacle

Alliance youth from seven Lawrence county churches and one from Mercer county will assemble tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the Castlewood Alliance Tabernacle for the bi-monthly rally of the district.

The speaker for the occasion will be Rev. Reed Walker, pastor of the Bakerstown Missionary Alliance church. Rev. Walker is a former New Castle man having been raised in South New Castle Boro. He is an excellent youth speaker it is said and will have a worthwhile address for the assembled young people.

In charge of the service will be Rev. Francis C. Johannides, pastor of the Hoover Heights Alliance church and president of the rally district. He will introduce the Ellwood City, C. B. M. C. quartet who will be heard in several numbers. Joseph Proctor will direct the song service, with Mrs. L. R. VanHorn at the piano.

Churches uniting to make the rally possible are: Alliance Tabernacle, 210 Pearson street; Sampson Street Alliance church; Hoover Heights, South New Castle; Washington Union Mission; New Wilmington Alliance church; Ellwood City Alliance; Drake Tabernacle, Leesburg and the host church at Castlewood.

CHANGE IN SPAIN?

MADRID, April 2.—(INS)—Persistent reports that Generalissimo Francisco Franco is contemplating a government change were revived Wednesday by action of the U. S. House of Representatives in tentatively designating Spain as a Marshal Plan beneficiary.

This move was greeted with joy throughout Spain, as have all previous steps linking the nation in any manner with the western bloc dedicated to the fight against expanding Communism.

Natural Resources Protection Needed In United States

Kansas Congressman Warns That U. S. Is Reaching Point Where Conservation Is Necessary

WASHINGTON, April 2.—

(INS)—Rep. Hope (R) Kan.,

warned Thursday that the United States is approaching a point where it will be unable to feed and clothe the people properly unless remaining natural resources are protected.

Hope, chairman of the House agriculture committee, proposes legislation to unify and strengthen federal conservation practices.

The congressman explained that under present conservation programs the nation is losing about 500,000 acres of crop land per year through erosion, silting and other preventable causes.

In addition, he estimated that six million acres a year must be taken from the reserve acreage to help feed the two million annual addition to the population.

Create New Agency
The Hope bill would accomplish unification of conservation policy by establishing within the agriculture department a new executive agency to be known as the agricultural resources administration.

This agency would consist of a land service, a forest service, and a fish and wildlife service which would be transferred from the interior department.

To assure coordination of conservation programs, the president would also be directed to survey all executive agencies and a transfer to the new agency any functions which would duplicate the administration's authority.

PUC GETS SHARE OF COMPLAINTS

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—The Public Utility Commission feels it knows something about complaints.

The utility rate regulating agency received 2333 informal protests against proposed rate changes, services and other matters involving gas, water, electric, telephone, steam heat and sewage companies.

There was no report on the number of "formal" complaints used to start hearing machinery that settles rate questions and other controversies.

The commission receives its informal complaints generally from individual consumers through the mail, by telegrams, telephone and personal visits.

Formal complaints generally are instituted by competing firms or consumer or other organizations, according to set forms.

GENERAL CLAY SPOKESMAN

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—The State and Army Departments said Thursday that Lt. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American occupation commander in Germany, will act as the U. S. spokesman on Russia's efforts to block travel in Berlin.

May Reconsider Bill To Abolish Margarine Tax

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Rep. Hope (R) Kan., chairman of the house agriculture committee disclosed today that he may ask for reconsideration of legislation to abolish the tax on oleomargarine in the face of mounting demand by house members.

Advocates of the legislation which was shelved earlier this month reported that 184 members of the house have signed a discharge petition which would force the committee to bring the bill up for a vote.

The petition presented by Rep. Rivers (D) S. C., requires 218 signatures. Proponents in both parties stressed their campaign to enlist the final 34 signatures.

Hope admitted that it would be "exceeding difficult" to obtain any committee action without unanimous consent of its membership, including several last-ditch foes of the proposal. He remarked:

"It will be hard when any one member can block reconsideration but if many more names are placed on the discharge petition, I may ask that the previous action be reviewed. It's possible for miracles to happen."

Legion-Vets Urge Universal Training

Leaders Of Organizations Ask Congress To Adopt UMT Immediately

By WILLIAM THEIS (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—The American Legion urged Congress Thursday to approve an immediate draft and universal military training because "the blunt fact is that the United States is moving toward war at an accelerated pace."

James F. O'Neil, national commander of the Legion, asked approval of draft and UMT laws "without yielding to political considerations."

He said a "standby" draft in which young men would be registered but not called at once to service would be a "cowardly" and an inexcusable exposure of the American people to danger.

O'Neil told the Senate armed services committee:

"The blunt fact is that the United States is moving toward war at an accelerated pace."

ed States is moving toward war at an accelerated pace.

"Until the United Nations is an effective policing body, we must be realistic enough to back up tough talk with something more than bluff."

The Legion's stand was backed up by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Omar Ketchum, VFW legislative director, told the committee his organization would approve the induction, if needed, of veterans between 19 and 25 with less than 18 months previous service.

COAL PRODUCTION SLUMPS

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—The National Coal Association, from incomplete car loading reports from the railroads, today estimated bituminous coal production in the United States for the week ended March 27 as approximately 2,115,000 net tons.

Production for the corresponding week last year was 12,162,000 net tons.

RED AMBASSADOR PROTESTS

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Russian Ambassador Alexander

High Schools Will Graduate 80,000 In May

BY JACK WARD
(N. E. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 2.—Eighty-one thousand Pennsylvania public high school students will receive diplomas next month, marking the completion of formal education for many.

The total graduates will represent less than 50 per cent of those who entered elementary school 12 years ago, according to Carl D. Mornueck, chief of child accounting and research of the department of public instruction.

"Less than half the number of students who entered public school originally will receive diplomas this year," he said. "But the situation has vastly improved since 1936 when only 20 per cent of the original number graduated."

Mornueck explained that a variety of reasons compelled students to drop out of high school. Financial conditions in the home, dissatisfaction with the school program and the lure of high wages for juvenile employment were leading causes, he said.

Pennsylvania law requires pupils to attend school only until 17 years of age, he explained.

In addition to the 81,000 regular graduates, between 600 and 700 World War II veterans who enlisted or were drafted into service while still in high school will be awarded "equivalent" diplomas earned through accelerated study programs or the state's veterans' testing service.

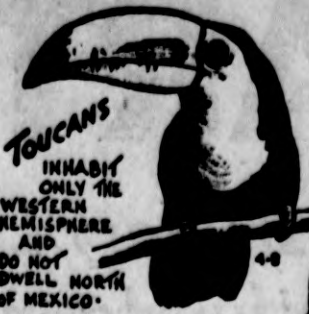

JEW TO REMAIN
JERUSALEM, April 2.—(INS)—The Jewish Agency declared Thursday that Jews will remain in Jerusalem despite strong British pressure to bring about their evacuation.

The agency announced its firm stand as a strong Haganah detachment prepared to shepherd a 60-vehicle convoy into the Holy City in the face of heavily-manned Arab roadblocks.

The convoy is laden with food supplies desperately needed by the city's Jewish population, which has been on short rations for days.

'Sale Of Ideas To World' Needed Says College Head

EASTON, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—Dr. Theodore A. Distler, president of Franklin and Marshall college, says an "American offensive" is needed to sell our ideas to the world.

He told the Foremen's club of Easton that Russia does not have the ERP, but that Stalin is selling ideas.

"They may be cock-eyed ideas," Dr. Distler said, "but he is selling them." He added:

"Americans are known as the best salesmen in the world. They can sell anything, but our biggest job is to sell our way of life."

The people of the United States, he said, must back the European recovery program but remember that "in the long run" only the soundness of our program will win over the world to our program.

Mrs. Don Whiting and son, David, spent several days visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alexander.

Members of the U. P. church will hold their annual meeting on Friday evening. A tureen dinner will be enjoyed at 7 p. m.

State Physicians Will Study Cancer

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—Under a grant of funds from the Pennsylvania state department of health at Harrisburg, doctors from all over the state of Pennsylvania are being brought to Philadelphia to study the latest advances in cancer research at the University of Pennsylvania medical school and hospital.

The cancer commission, it is announced, will play an important part in operating affairs of the projected new Philadelphia medical center of the University of Pennsylvania school of medicine and hospital. A campaign to raise $10,000,000 currently is under way to assure start of construction of the first unit of the medical center by May 1949, the condition stipulated by William H. Donner in his recent gift of $1,000,000 through the Donner Foundation.

State Recreation Program To Expand

To Map Program Scheduled May 19-20 At Pennsylvania State College

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—A conference to encourage expansion of community recreation programs in Pennsylvania through the use of the state's resources and legislation is scheduled for May 19-20 at Pennsylvania State college.

Sponsored by the college's school of physical education and athletics and general extension services, the two-day session is designed for mayors, burgesses, councilmen, other rural and municipal officials, school superintendents and principals, recreation directors, recreation board members, representatives of state agencies concerned with recreation and representative of management and employee industrial recreation organizations.

According to A. W. Castle, chief of the extension education service of the state department of public instruction, only about 200 communities in the commonwealth are making use of the funds for recreation program. National Recreation Association and Industrial Recreation Association.

According to a recent survey made by the school of physical education and athletics, only 26 Pennsylvania communities have year-round recreation programs with full-time leadership. The survey showed that while no doubt officials of many communities are interested in promoting such year-round programs, they are just not aware of the assistance the state is able to provide.

Principal speakers listed for discussion at the conference include: (1) organization and conduct of rural, community and industrial recreation programs, (2) what constitutes a well-rounded community and industrial recreation program, (3) types of layout-design recreational facilities and costs (discussion by nationally-known recreation architects), (4) recreation services and resources available through state departments.

Among the principal speakers will be Harold D. Meyers, recreation director of the state of North Carolina; V. K. Brown, retired recreation director of Chicago, and representatives of several state departments and agencies.

Community officials and leaders who attend the conference will have the opportunity to learn how to plan and administer an adequate recreation program, and how to finance it, according to Conference Chairman Fred M. Coombs of Penn State's school of physical education and athletics. Special consultation services will be available for those with unusual problems.

Want All Aliens To Be Registered

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—The Justice Department requested Congress Thursday to authorize the annual registration of aliens in the United States.

In a letter to House Speaker Martin (R) Mass., Peyton Ford, assistant to Attorney General Clark, recommended that the 1940 alien registration act be amended to require aliens to notify the Justice Department of their whereabouts each July.

Law Ineffective
The measure proposed by the Justice Department would provide a fine of $100 and 30 days imprisonment for failure to register. Ford pointed out that the present law requiring notification of a change of address within five days has not been effective. He said: "The courts have been reluctant to impose a penalty for such an apparently minor infraction of the law."

He said that registration each year would insure compliance because of increased penalties. He added: "It is believed that such a measure would also encourage many aliens to seek naturalization rather than continue the burden of having to register their whereabouts annually."

About 3,000 Negroes, it is estimated, served in the American Revolutionary armies. There were about 180,000 Negro soldiers in the Union armies during the Civil War in the United States.

AFL Committees Get Battle Plan

State Labor Groups Told To "Whip Up Enthusiasm" Among Masses Of Voters

By SUZANNE FLICK

(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)

—Pennsylvania AFL Political Education

committees had orders today to "whip up enthusiasm"

among voters and assure adequate war chests to finance campaigns against anti-labor lawmakers.

President James L. McDevitt, of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, told 100 union delegates to a pre-primary rally of the PFL's political organization that "if we are to succeed to defeat at least

14 of the Congressmen, and it can be done, we've got to build up enthusiasm among the people."

The delegation took a clear stand in opposition to Henry A.

Wallace's independent presidential bid.

It unanimously adopted a resolution that established an "expression of opinion" that union officials supporting Wallace candidates or endorsers of the Taft-Hartley

Act should resign their labor leaderships. Delegates expressed the belief that the resolution would carry "moral weight."

Resolution Targets

The resolution was aimed primarily at Joseph Rucio, secretary of the Allentown Central Labor

Union, and Nicholas Lazaris, business manager of a Pittsburgh restaurant workers' union, who filed nomination papers with the elections bureau as electors on the Wallace Progressive Party ticket.

They will seek election in the November 2 balloting.

McDevitt received proposals from the floor that efforts be made to bar members with Communist affiliations from the PFL's annual convention in Pittsburgh and said he would bend every effort to rout

"Reds" from the organization if evidence indicated Communist affiliations.

Eight Republican congressmen marked for the PLF purge were identified but McDevitt warned delegates that it would take work

"from now up" to election to carry out plans.

"It can't be done with resolutions or motions," he emphasized.

"This is a do-or-die job. We expect these contacts to be started as early as possible."

He spoke before the League for Political Education meeting at Harrisburg yesterday to lay the groundwork for repeal of the Taft-

Hartley Act by defeating supporters of the controversial law.

HARLANSBURG

UNITY BAPTIST

The Unity Baptist church celebrated Easter Sunday with two special choir selections in the morning with 50 voices from the Harlanburg high school singing the Easter story in a cantata in the evening.

The church was filled to capacity for the service in the evening, with many visitors present, including Porter McCandless of Slippery Rock and Irwin Stunkard of Mt.
Jackson, the local principal.

Ladies Missionary society met at the home of Mrs. Emma Mallinak on Thursday, with Mrs. Cora Wimer leading the devotion.

The following officers were elected: President: Mrs. Dorothy Marshall; vice president, Mrs.
Bertha Kneram; secretary, Mrs.
Ethel Harkless; treasurer, Mrs.
Helen Kildoo. The next meeting will be at the church, when a turkey dinner will be served. Mrs.

Nannie Hunt will be devotional leader. The church will be cleaned following the meeting. The church basement is already being redecorated.

The next Friendly Missionary Circle meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mabel Kneram.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Easter service of the Presbyterian church was supported by a good attendance. The primary children in their choir gowns gave a nice program of song and Bible verses during the Bible school hour. Special music for the church service was given by Mrs. Orr and Miss Marian McConnell.

HARLANSBURG NOTES

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Kneram and family were dinner guests on Easter at the home of Mrs. William Cornea of New Castle.

Miss Arlene Hoover of New Castle was a week-end guest of Miss Edye Harlan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Macom, formerly of this place, announce the birth of their baby daughter on Friday. The baby has been named Janet Marie.

Mrs. Lucille Hunt, Mrs. Mae Vogart, Mrs. Hazel McCracken and Mrs. Vera Bruce attended the flower show in Pittsburgh Thursday.

Mrs. Nell Longwell of New Wilmington attended the Easter service here on Sunday evening.

Mrs. J. D. Humphrey spent a few days in Turtle Creek at the home of her daughter.

Mrs. Della Thompson will be hostess for the Garden club meeting to be held at the Village Inn with Mrs. Mayme Eakin as co-hostess and Mrs. Mildred Turner as leader.

The Home Economics group will have an all-day meeting on April 6 at the home of Mrs. Hazel Mc-

Cracken starting at 10:30 a. m.
April 15 the P.T.A. will meet to elect new officers. The nominating committee is composed of:

Mrs. Edwin Beatty, Mrs. W. E. McFarland and Mrs. Joe Post.

A sizeable contribution has come in for the playground equipment which will be installed soon.

Mrs. William Taggart, Mrs.
James Fagguson and daughters,
Mrs. Clarence Taggart and Mrs.
Clair Taggart of Slippery Rock were Tuesday callers on Mrs. J. D.

Humphrey.

The Junior Class gave their play on Friday night at Big Beaver Grange.

Mrs. Jesse Brown has returned from the Grange Leadership school at Bloomsburg.

Mrs. Mayme Philpot of New Castle is visiting with her people,
John McCalmont and Miss Bessie
McCalmont.

Tom Brown returned from a trip to California a week ago Saturday.
Mrs. Brown returned on Wednesday from California also.

Gill McKissick was hurt in a truck accident near Grove City and has returned to his home from the hospital.

There were 18 members present at the Y.T.C. meeting. The next meeting will be April 16 when an spaghetti supper will be enjoyed.

Six unions of the W.C.T.U. will hold their institute at Liberty

Grange hall on April 8. Two sessions will be held beginning at 10 a. m. A tureen dinner will be served. Each union will participate in the program.

Dynamite Ditching To Be Demonstrated

Use of dynamite in ditching will be demonstrated at the farm of Dorris L. Fulkman, of the New Castle-Pulaski road, east of the Shenango river, on Monday morning at 10 o'clock.

Anyone interested in this project is welcome to attend. L. C.

Dayton, county agent, announces.

The Mexicans call poinsettias the "Mexican flame leaf." Joel R.
Poinsett, U. S. ambassador to Mexico, introduced the plant to the U.

S. in 1828, and it was named for him.

Class To Present Comedy Tonight

"Miss Ginger," a three-act comedy, will be presented at 8 o'clock tonight by the members of the junior class at Shenango High School in the school's auditorium.

The play centers around a search for a missing heiress named Ginger Gay. During the course of events, several possible heiresses develop to add to the confusion and comedy.

Yesterday afternoon the play was presented to the grade school students and this afternoon to the high school students. The advance ticket sale has been very satisfactory and indications point to a large crowd at curtain time.

Miss Leora McCommons will direct the cast consisting of Ann Orlando, James Johnson, Tom Mc-

Gary, Louise Feil, Clara Owoc, Stepheney Goreske, Malinda

Sleight, Julia Toth, Delores Welker, Clyde McCrabbe, Walter Zurasky

and Charles Rhodes.

Dr. Vanordstrand Is Society Speaker

Local Medical Society To Be Hosts
At Tenth Council District
State Medical Sessions

Dr. H. S. Vanordstrand, of the Respiratory Division of the Cleveland Clinic, was the speaker on Thursday evening at the regular meeting of the Lawrence County Medical Society, held at The Castleton, 9 p. m.

Dr. Vanordstrand's subject was "Beryllium Poisoning." In the talk he pointed out that Beryllium poisoning is an industrial disease.

Those afflicted are individuals who work where Beryllium and its compounds are used; and also those who work with the process of extracting Beryllium from its ore.

Dr. Vanordstrand was the first physician to discover that the metal was responsible for the industrial disease. He was introduced by Dr. Wilbur Flannery.

All Day Meeting

An important announcement was made of the Tenth Council District of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania including several counties, namely, Lawrence, Allegheny, Beaver and others, on April 14, at The Castleton.

This all day meeting will start at 10 a. m., with morning sessions being devoted to scientific meetings. Dr. Charles Higgins, chief of the Division of Urology, Cleveland

Clinic, and president of the American Urological Association, will speak on the subject, "Present

Day Management of Ureteral Lithiasis."

Dr. Carlton Ernestine, as the second speaker, has chosen, "Curable Forms of Heart Disease," as his topic.

A luncheon will follow the morning sessions, wives of the members to attend. During the afternoon certificates of appreciation will be presented to Medical Practitioners in the Council District who have been in practice for 50 years. Dr.

Edwin McComb will be honored locally.
Refreshments were served later,

and the meeting adjourned until May 5, when a dinner-meeting will be held at the Overlook Sanitarium, at New Wilmington. Dr.

Joseph Hughes, professor of psychiatry at the Women's Medical College, is the speaker slated for the day.

Neshannock Post No. 315
Installs Officers At Thursday Night
Meeting

Henry E. Jordan of R. D. 1, was installed as commander of Neshannock Post 315, V. F. W., at a post meeting last night. The installing officer was F. T. Sargent, past district commander.

Other officers installed were: Senior vice commander, Trevor Williams; junior vice commander, David Baughman; quartermaster, John D'Aurio; chaplain, Joseph Lane; post surgeon, James A. Bell; post judge advocate, George E. Hunt Sr.; post historian, William Kazanski; trustee, Norman Minner; delegates to the tri-county council, James A. Bell, Hardin Stebbins, Norman Minner and Albert Haid. George E. Hunt Sr. was appointed as adjutant. Further appointments will be announced by the new commander in the near future.

Presents Caps

A chaplain's cap was presented to Joseph Lane by George D. Christoph on behalf of the post in recognition of his long and faithful service as post chaplain.

The past commander's pin was presented to Walter A. Kieler, retiring commander.

Continuing the post policy of supporting worthwhile civic and community projects, a donation of ten dollars was made to the Red Cross drive now in progress. Walter A. Kieler, F. T. Sargent and Hardin Stebbins were appointed to represent the post at the Army Day ceremonies to be held at the Castleton hotel at noon of April 6 in honor of Mrs. John E. Elliot, New Castle's lady of the year.

Harry O. Falls, chairman of the party committee, announced that the party for April will be held on the 24th.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Spaniards Bitter Toward Congress

Reversal On Decision To Grant
Spain Aid Under Marshall Plan Brings Protest

MADRID, April 2.—(INS)—Spaniards bitterly resented today American congressional action reversing the House of Representatives' decision to include Spain in the European recovery program. The resentment was reflected in Generalissimo Franco's refusal to receive two American diplomats after he heard the news. Earlier he had said that he would see them.

Franco-Taylor Confer

Franco did see Myron Taylor, President Truman's personal representative to the Vatican, and conferred with him for more than an hour last night.

The two he refused to see were American Charge D'Affaires Paul Culbertson and Robert Peil, Taylor's assistant.

The controlled Spanish press, in obviously inspired editorials, charged that the action of the House-Senate conferees was "a triumph of minority opinion."

President Asks Additional Funds To Build Defense

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 2.—President Truman Thursday urged Congress to increase appropriations for defense by three billion 375 million dollars.

The president said that this increase is necessary "to round out and balance our national security program" and to "secure" a lasting peace.

Under the president's recommendations today the defense budget would be increased from 11 billions to 14 billion 375 million dollars.

Mr. Truman made his views known in a letter to House Speaker Martin.

The president wrote that the additional money for the 1949 fiscal year is required "to enable us to meet our international responsibilities." Mr. Truman added:

"It is my earnest hope that on the solid foundation of our foreign aid programs and a limited increase in our present military strength, we can achieve a substantial lessening of present international tension and move forward toward our goal of securing a just and lasting peace."

FRANK MCCREARY SUFFERS INJURIES

Frank McCreary, aged 50 years, of R. D. 2, a member of the Post Office custodial force, was painfully injured late Thursday morning, when he fell several feet from a scaffold, where he was working. He was taken to the Jameson Memorial hospital, where it was found he had suffered a dislocation of the fourth and fifth fingers of the left hand, and a severe laceration of the scalp.

Two Classes Of North Street
School Attending

Fourth grade classes taught by Miss Margaret Hemphill in North Street school were given library instruction by Mrs. Walter McKee, children's librarian in the Free Public Library, on Tuesday.

The students were told the story of a book from the time of its purchase, until it is ready for circulation. A tour followed the instructions, Miss Alice Sterling, librarian in charge.

On Friday, Miss Alice Warner brought the third grade class of the same school for a similar study. Arrangements are being made for classes in other schools to visit the library.

Business Slumps In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—Business in the Pittsburgh district last week slumped to a new low level for 1948, according to the bureau of business research of the University of Pittsburgh.

As in the preceding week, most of the drop in business resulted from the stoppage in bituminous coal production, although the volume of shipments and trade showed large decreases, also.

The bureau's index of business tumbled from 178.2 per cent of the 1935-39 average in the week ended March 20 to 166.4 last week.

In the past two weeks the index has fallen nearly 32 points, or about 16 per cent.

Marshall Opens Rapid-Fire Talks At Bogota Parley

BOGOTA, Colombia, April 2.—

(INS)—U. S. Secretary of State Marshall opened a series of rapid-fire talks with chief delegates to the ninth Inter-American Conference in Bogota today.

His object was believed to be an effort to wind up the conference successfully as soon as possible in view of the troubled international situation.

Marshall talked at his private office to Joao Neves da Fontoura of Brazil, former President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela, Laureano Gomez of Colombia, and Foreign Minister Juan Bramuglia of Argentina.

Each called at his own request. But the rapid schedule was taken to indicate that Marshall plans to work largely in private conferences to achieve some sort of understanding and to put the real world situation before important Latin American leaders in unmistakable terms.

In these talks, Marshall is believed to be going even farther than when he spoke extemporaneously at the conclusion of his prepared address before a plenary session yesterday.

Hire Publicity Man In Effort To Unseat State Senator M. Harvey Taylor

OTHER HAPPENINGS
ON CAPITOL HILL

(By International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—Insurgent Dauphin county Republicans have hired a veteran political campaign director to guide their April 27 primary election fight against GOP State Chairman M. Harvey Taylor, seeking nomination for re-election to the state Senate. He is Robert Post of Glenshaw, 38-year-old radio producer and former newspaperman. Post has handled 22 Republican political campaigns in 11 years. They included the late James J. Davis' unsuccessful bid for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in 1942 when he was topped by Edward Martin by 100,000 votes. Post was hired as "advance" man by Martin when he became governor. He also had experience handling the Wendell Willkie campaigns in western Pennsylvania in 1940 and since then in directing campaigns of congressmen and mayoralty contestants. Before concentration on political work Post was associated with Pittsburgh's Bulletin Index, published weekly, now defunct. Post is handling the senatorial campaign of Walter Mumma, a Harrisburg building supplier, and a slate of House candidates opposing the regular GOP ticket.

Although he got a scare from the opposition in the 1947 municipal election, Taylor is confident of re-election to the upper chamber for a third term. He believes the present opponents are trying to capitalize on headway made by insurgents during an off-year election. The situation changes in elections from year to year depending upon whether state-wide officers of importance or presidents are being elected. This year is an organization year, because of increased party efforts to consolidate factions in order to elect a Republican President, Taylor believes.

The Pennsylvania National Guard Association will resume its annual conventions this year, the first meeting since before the war will be held at Scranton April 2-10. More than 300 delegates are expected to flock to the sessions which also will be attended by army representatives and federal, state and local officials. . . . A strong position will be taken on state and federal programs designed to strengthen the country's military position.

One of the less publicized functions of the State Health Department is "correspondence" with foreign nations. . . . The department's Bureau of Vital Statistics notifies officials of other countries when aliens die in Pennsylvania. . . . The information is submitted to the consul of the deceased person's nation. . . . It is often important in the settlement of estates and other legal matters.

The 1947-48 edition of the Pennsylvania Manual, handbook of Pennsylvania government, will be off the presses this summer. . . . Approximately 20,000 copies will be printed. It is estimated unofficially that the cost to the state is about $3 a copy, yet it sells for $1. . . . If printed commercially, the cost would run around $10 a copy.

State policemen are trained to act decisively in emergencies. . . . Yet Corporal James Murray and Marty Welsh, two strapping stalwarts assigned to the Governor's office, hesitated when confronted with a fire. . . . Finally, they cautiously and with noticeable hesitation, went into action with fire extinguishers. . . . Perhaps the location was the reason. . . . It was a vacant ladies' lounge. . . . The fire broke out shortly after an employee held a match too close to a sofa while searching for an inventory control number.

Joseph Horne
Dies Suddenly
At Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, April 2.—(INS)—Joseph Horne, 58, president of the Joseph Horne department store in Pittsburgh, died suddenly today of a heart attack at the University club where he made his home. . . . Grandson of the founder of Joseph Horne & Co., Horne graduated from Yale in 1911 and started his career as a salesman in men's furnishings, working his way up through the ranks until he was named president of the firm in 1946. . . . He served in both World Wars and was active in veterans' affairs.

March Building
Cost $98,570

Building during the month of March is estimated to have cost $98,570. Seven new dwellings were started at a cost of $48,000. Other new construction cost $25,495 and remodeling $25,075.

In early Japanese times a cartman was taxed for any conveyance in which he rode which resulted in a custom of leading cart horses rather than driving them.

Sketches Makeup
Of Local Boards
In New Rent Curb

WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods announced the makeup of local advisory boards which will implement the new rent control law throughout the nation.

The five-man boards will be composed of one representative of landlords interests, one representative of tenant interests and three representatives of public interest groups.

Woods emphasized that the public interest representatives should include "leaders of veterans' organizations who are concerned with the housing problems of returned GIs."

Members of existing boards have been asked to serve pending a survey to assure that each board "meets the new requirements that it be representative of the affected interests in the area."

The expediter pointed out that the new law provides that any recommendation for decontrol or for adjustments in the general rent level which he does not approve must be filed by him in the emergency court of appeals created by the 1948 act.

The court will enter an order approving or disapproving the board's recommendations, and this decision is final.

Local rent advisory boards, Woods noted, are authorized under the law to consider individual adjustment cases coming before them.

Suing Government
For Heavy Damages
In Death Of Husband

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—The widow of a Philadelphia man killed in a plane accident last July, sued the federal government today for $200,000 damages. . . . Suit was filed in U. S. district court by Mrs. Margaret Drueking, mother of a young daughter, charging "negligence" of an army pilot caused the death of her husband, Edward.

Drueking was killed when an army plane in an attempted take-off crashed into a plane in which he was sitting at Godman field, Fort Knox, Ky.

Meet Attended
By ARC Women

Mrs. John E. Elliott, Mrs. Lyle Hughes, Mrs. Louise McConnell and Miss Gertrude Hoonstine of the local Red Cross chapter, attended a meeting of the northwestern Pennsylvania home service groups held Thursday in Meadville. . . . The meeting was called to map plans for expansion of this division of the Red Cross and go over duties and obligations for the year. . . . Mrs. Florence Turner, field representative of Erie, was in charge of the session.

New Wilmington Post
To Meet Wednesday

New Wilmington post 9085, V. F. W., will meet at 8 o'clock Wednesday night. In view of the New Wilmington post not yet having arranged for a meeting place, and also because of other meetings in New Wilmington, all of the members will be entertained at Neshannock post 315, V. F. W., New Castle.

Persons eligible to join the post should be present and have their discharge papers with them. . . . The meeting will be in charge of post officers, who will be assisted by Past District Commander F. T. Sargent.

Disdain Phones

NESPELEM, Wash., April 2.—(INS)—Two Nespelem Indian chiefs declared today they prefer the "moccasin telegraph" to the newly installed telephone between Nespelem and Spokane.

The chiefs, Billy Curlew and Peter Dan Mosse, both refused to have anything to do with the ceremonial opening of the new switchboard. . . . They had been invited to appear in full regalia and to speak the first words over the new circuit. . . . But the chiefs sent word they "chose not to make skookum-wawa (good talk) on white man's smoke signal."

BONFIRE REPORTED

Sixth ward firemen were called to 418 West Washington street by a still alarm at 1:30 o'clock this morning. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reports. Firemen found that some workmen, engaged in tearing down an old house, had left a bonfire burning, which endangered other property. It was put out by use of the booster.

British Experts Studying Soviet Traffic Rulings

LONDON, April 2.—(INS)—An official spokesman said today that British Foreign Secretary Bevin has his experts on Germany studying all aspects of new Russian traffic regulations into and out of Berlin.

The spokesman said that the question involving inspection of railroad trains of the western allies still is within the jurisdiction of Gen. Sir Brian Robertson, British occupation commander. . . . Asked if he regarded the current situation as very serious, the spokesman replied: "Very inconvenient."

The spokesman explained that under the four-power allied agreement of June 6, 1945, Britain has as much right to be in Berlin as in its separate occupation zone of Germany.

He declared: "It is unusual for one allied power to interfere with another's transports." . . . He said that no direct representations have been sent to Moscow as yet.

Need Intelligent Desire For Peace Is Aranha's Plea

President Of UN General Assembly Says Such Desire Lacking Among Leaders

By RICHARD DYER
(U. N. Staff Correspondent)
RIO DE JANEIRO, April 2.—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, president of the U. N. General Assembly, has said there is "need for an intelligent desire for peace," something which he finds "lacking among the leaders of all the great nations."

Dr. Aranha, in an exclusive interview with International News Service, said:

"Each day the news becomes more alarming and incredible. It seems elementary that the world's leaders of today should be aligned toward an understanding of world problems."

"Instead one feels ever stronger the mounting conviction that differences can only be settled by war."

"The war of 1914 was caused by a lack of understanding, and that of 1939 by madness. Another war would be suicidal."

"It is impossible to admit such factors in mass decisions over human life."

Referring to the spread of Communism in Europe, the U. N. Assembly president continued:

"Although the Communist vanguards in democratic countries will continue their policies of constant tension, I have confidence that our human intelligence will find means of stopping them without resorting to the fatal clash."

Dr. Aranha, who has been widely mentioned as a candidate for the Nobel peace prize because of his work as president of the U. N. General Assembly, said the globe needs an intelligent desire for peace. He continued:

"Whenever wars end, men are inclined to unite in associations whose names have varied through history. 'The functions of these associations have always been to create favorable conditions for the new times ahead.'"

"LEAP YEAR" A MYTH
NEW YORK.—(INS)—Chances of marriage are no better in "leap years" than in ordinary years, according to the statisticians of a leading life insurance company. In fact, statistics indicate that the marriage rate in 1948—a "leap year"—will decline from the high levels of the past two years. There are currently about eight million single men and six million single women at the marriageable ages in the United States.

Here's A Lot Of Rubbish

New Castle-ites are rather inclined to be boastful concerning their town and the wonderful advantages it offers, and rightfully so.

Playgrounds for the youngsters of New Castle received a lot of publicity last summer. They were active, with good counselors and leaders to keep things moving. It's good for the youngsters to have some place, under supervision, to play.

But if their parents were told they were playing in a place where

It certainly is! The above picture is positive proof. The fence separating the playground from the rubbish is no protection, and the rubbish should not be there.

Yes, the picture WAS taken last summer, and for a series of pictures on giving Pa New a haircut and shave, BUT—it was taken during the height of the playground season when rubbish endangered children's health and destroyed the beauty of New Castle.

This playground was once an ash pile. A contracting firm offered men and trucks to clear the land and a playground was built. A civic improvement.

And then some very uncivic minded individuals believe they have the right to throw trash, tin cans and rubbish wherever they choose.

Do they?

If the citizens of New Castle have enough pride and sense of responsibility for civic beauty, there will soon be no "dumps" and trash piles such as the one pictured above.

ENJOYMENT IN READING

Children of all ages love the story. To the young child in particular the story is necessary to exercise his imagination and enlarge his experience.

The hearing of a good story gives joy to the child, cultivates his imagination, develops a taste for good literature and extends his knowledge of different ways of living. Children who have heard many good stories and poems before entering school are more likely to become good readers than those children who have not.

Before a child is taught reading, he should have a desire to learn to read and many wide and varied experiences in order to make reading meaningful to him.

If a child has enjoyed hearing many stories he will naturally be more likely to want to learn to read just for his own pleasure.

Since the average person is limited in his opportunities he can broaden his knowledge just by reading. Many children from the country have not had the opportunity of riding on a subway, yet they can have that experience vicariously just by reading about someone else's ride.

Among children of school age, pleasure from reading books is dependent upon skill in reading. If the story is too difficult for the child to read himself the teacher or mother will read it to him. She is too wise to let the child's interest and enthusiasm be destroyed by forcing the child to read something that is too hard for him.

However she will find other books suitable in content but simple enough that the child can read himself.

Any mother or teacher who understands children and who loves books herself and then reads to her children is taking a big step towards assuring a child's success in learning to read.

Agency Creek, near the Idaho-Montana border, in Idaho, was named after the Lemhi Indian Reservation, and was the first creek Captain Lewis came to when he crossed Idaho in 1805.

League Of Women Voters Heads Say 'Must Avoid War'

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—War "must be and is avoidable" in the opinion of the two women who share Bryn Mawr college's M. Carey Thomas award.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the late president, and Miss Anna Lord Strauss, head of the League of Women Voters, are emphatic in their belief that we should support the United Nations.

Mrs. Roosevelt states "if we can postpone war for 10 to 15 years, with the U. S. and USSR can learn enough to get along together. But the next few years are going to be very difficult."

Miss Strauss declares that women are especially well equipped to enter the fight for peace because of their interest in the coming generation. She says "men are so deep in their individual business concerns they sometimes cannot see the forest for the trees."

The League of Women Voters is now raising money for the Carrie Chapman Catt fund which will send representatives abroad to organize European women into non-partisan groups similar to ours.

Urges Support Of Boys' Club Week

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today urged statewide support of the Boys' Clubs of America during Boys' Club Week April 5-11.

Pointing out that 38 chapters are scattered throughout the state, Duff hailed the movement as a leading factor in curbing juvenile delinquency.

"In a period when the increase in crime among young people causes serious concern, the boys' clubs are working actively in the field of crime prevention," he stated. "No institution or social movement in this country has done more to save youngsters from delinquency and give them the will, and the way, to development of citizenship."

Plan Competitive Division For Beef In State Farm Show

Plan To Offer Encouragement Of Growing Beef Cattle For Pennsylvania Farmers

(U. N. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 2.—(INS)—As a means of recognizing and encouraging Pennsylvania's growing beef cattle industry, the State Farm Show Commission established a new competitive division for the 1949 exhibition at its annual meeting at Harrisburg.

The commission fixed the week of January 10-14 as the date of the 1949 show after turning down proposals of livestock and dairy groups to schedule the exhibition in November.

The new division, labeled as the "open class for steers," will give Pennsylvania beef cattle breeders and feeders an opportunity to compete for place and premium awards, the commission announced.

State Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst, chairman of the nine-member group, said the aim of the competition will be to encourage and advance the breeding and raising of a better type of beef slaughter animals in the state.

In all previous farm shows, beef steer exhibitions have been limited to 4-H Baby Beef Club entries. The 4-H class will be continued as usual.

"The new classification should encourage former 4-H Baby Beef Club members who are now operating farms to continue raising and showing young steers at the far mshow, in addition to those older breeders and feeders who can now present their product in the show ring," Horst explained.

Farms in the Commonwealth now produce only about 10 percent of the beef consumed in the state, Horst pointed out. But, he added, the industry is growing and will have adequate recognition at the 1949 show.

In addition to naming the new competition, the commission also approved presentation of the fourth annual talent festival and the state championship horse-pulling, log sawing and horseshoe pitching contests.

At the opening session of the semi-annual meeting of the Friends of the Land at Harrisburg, a simple colored-slide demonstration by the Brandywine Valley Association, of Chester County, literally "stole the show" from nationally prominent persons.

The half-hour demonstration, with a running commentary by association staff member Robert Struble, was acclaimed immediately by outstanding conservationists, including Louis Bromfield, prominent author and Ohio farmer, Paul Bester of Newark, N. J., president of the Friends of the Land, and Seth Gordon, state game commissioner.

Many of the group requested permission to present the slide exhibit to other organizations. Bromfield declared it was "the best" example of conservation, its need and effect, he had seen.

The Brandywine Valley Association is an independent conservation group attempting to interest Chester County farmers in halting soil erosion.

SHIPBUILDERS WILL LOSE JOBS
CAMDEN, N. J., April 2.—(INS)—Some 4,500 employees of the 5,000 at the New York shipbuilding plant in Camden are scheduled to lose their jobs by Dec. 1.

A union official said the management had informed the union that current contracts would be fulfilled by December and no more work was scheduled.

The house is still standing in Brookville, Md., where President Madison and his family took refuge when the British burned the city of Washington in 1814.

Partial Shutdown At J. & L. Seen
ALBUQUERQUE, Pa., April 2.—(INS)—A partial shutdown of the Aliquippa plant of the Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation loomed on the horizon today if a threatened strike by employees of the Aliquippa and Southern railroad goes through.

Announcement of the strike, scheduled for Monday, was made last night by Aliquippa Local 1053 of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in strike notices posted throughout the plant.

The steel company is heavily dependent upon the railroad's intra plant service.

The Brotherhood contends management has refused to sign a new contract covering working rules and regulations.

HEALTH NEWS

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

Drugless Health

REGARDLESS of how long you have been a sufferer, and how many medicines you have tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL, the wonderful mineral aid. Feel and enjoy the results one week after you start taking it. GEO-MINERAL comes from the earth — Nature's laboratory. Contains NO drugs, NO alcohol, NO oil. ONLY nature's minerals — the oldest, most reliable remedy for rheumatism, arthritis, kidney and stomach ailments.

FOR THOUSANDS of years ever since Hippocrates was the father of medicine, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. GEO-MINERAL will enrich your blood, help to maintain strong, full of pep, life and energy. If you suffer from anemia, nervousness, lack of vitality and energy, see what GEO-MINERAL will do for you.

Wonder Minerals

MEDICAL records show 65% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional mineral-iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, tired, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, when the sexual powers weaken, and life seems not worth living, with worry weighing you down — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. GEO-MINERAL is then what you need.

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases that condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain of these ills. Doctors send people to mineral springs to find cure or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there twice a year.

Amazing Results

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous waters. We have all heard of the wonderful springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thionin in ancient Greece where, according to legend, Hercules, the god of eternal strength and might, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

GEO-MINERAL contains minerals you get at the world's best springs. Watch your elimination from your bowels a day or two after using it. The waste, black as the color of your shoes, will start to break away, and you will SEE it! Also examine your urine. You may see impurities — poisons — waste — coming out of your kidneys, relieving you. And then realize its value.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in the stomach. It cleans and purifies the intestines thoroughly, relieving gas, toxins, acids, and bloating. After these poisons are out of the system, and the kidneys purified, we begin to feel the arthritis and rheumatism leaving, and Nature starting to complete the recovery.

WE URGE everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Come to this drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not 100 per cent satisfied, we will refund your money.

Hosiery Workers Seeking Increase

PHILADELPHIA, April 2. — (INS) — The American Federation of Hosiery Workers has announced it will seek a third round of pay increases for some 30,000 hosiery workers throughout the nation.

A union official said a 25-cent hourly boost would be asked. He said the "stratospheric cost of living" prompted the demand. Since V-J Day the hosiery workers have received two raises. The first was 18 and one-half cents hourly and the second 13 cents an hour.

Museum Exhibits Given New Look

Displays Showing History Of Commonwealth Painted And Arranged In Order

HARRISBURG, April 2. — (INS) — The state museum and historical commission knows what a little paint and ingenuity can do. The commission has turned a hodgepodge of drab, dusty exhibits in the museum building at Harrisburg into an attractive, orderly arrangement of displays tracing the growth of the commonwealth. Antiquated show cases modernized by applying inside borders of paint to black out excessive light. Clean, clearly printed identification cards bearing terse explanations have been attached to items exhibited. Fluorescent lights have been installed at the tops of the cases. Light formerly filtered through from ceiling chandeliers. All the exhibits have been sorted and cleaned. Special care was taken not to crowd exhibits as had been done previously. Instead, displays will be changed frequently. Charles M. Steese, assistant curator, explained early Pennsylvania products and evidence of settlements would be stressed best by using a few select examples at a time.

To provide visitors with a clear-cut picture of Pennsylvania's development, the commission has placed displays in the order of their chronological places in history. The exhibit starts with the landing of the Swedes in 1639 on Tinicum Island in the Delaware river between Philadelphia and Chester. It is illustrated chiefly with a panoramic map, sketch and cannon ball from the settlement, first in the state. The display traces the state's progress through William Penn's time to activities in the Second World War, shown in a special war trophies room. Visitors formerly had been confronted upon entering with old obsolete instruments of a country doctor. They gazed on cases with polystyrene displays of teachers' certificates, personal photo collections and other family discards accepted by the museum over a long period of time.

The new local government tax law has sent representatives of motion picture industries scampering to the state capitol. They have been hounding the bureau of municipal affairs for weeks to obtain lists of municipalities levying amusement taxes, so far the most popular impost levied under the local government's virtually unlimited taxing powers. Most of the amusement taxes have been imposed on movie house admissions. The representatives explained that theater operators serve as collectors of the taxes and the motion picture industries want to be certain they don't suffer as a result of the new taxes. They want to be sure taxes aren't deducted from their cut of the box office receipts.

The name of an outstanding employee of the unemployment compensation bureau will be entered in a nationwide contest sponsored annually by the International Association of Public Employment Service. The winner will have an opportunity to attend the association's annual meeting at Windsor, Canada June 10 with expenses paid and receive a $100 cash prize. The contest is designed to select the employee making the greatest contribution toward promoting the efficiency of his bureau.

The Pennsylvania Federation of Labor (AFL) has congratulated its meat cutters affiliate for establishing two new national wage records in negotiations of kosher butchers with Philadelphia meat packers. The butchers obtained a 50 per cent boost from $5,200 to $7,800 a year, the highest industrial guaranteed wage in the country.

National Guard Complement Now 11,817 Members

HARRISBURG, April 2. — (INS) — The department of military affairs today announced the Pennsylvania National Guard has surpassed its pre-war complement of approximately 10,000 officers and enlisted men.

Latest figures on PNG enlistments showed that as of March 15, 11,817 men were signed up in more than 200 federally-recognized units scattered throughout the state.

Quota By June 30 The enlistment total represents 73.9 per cent of the PNG's current quota of 15,970, a spokesman said.

The Guard has until June 30 to fill its quota. At present, the PNG is second in the nation in the total number of troops, ranking only behind New York which has approximately 19,000 officers and men.

Winning Battle Against Syphilis

HARRISBURG, April 2. — (INS) — Eradication of syphilis was foreseen today by Dr. J. R. Heller, chief of venereal disease control for the U. S. public health service. "The marked advance of venereal disease control during the past 10 years is gratifying to those who have had a part in it," he said yesterday during a seminar on treatment attended by medical directors of Pennsylvania's 126 state supported clinics.

"If syphilis continues to decrease we can say that we are approaching our goal of eradication of this disease or its reduction to a manageable minimum," Heller asserted.

The number of congenital syphilis cases had dropped from 18,000 to 12,000 each year during the past six years, Heller said.

Use of penicillin was credited for much of the disease along with the cooperation of persons volunteering for treatment.

Charter Plan To Appear On Ballot

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 2. — (INS) — East Liverpool city council today had advised representatives of the City Manager Charter Association, Inc., that the November 2 presidential election is recommended as the best time to submit the question of a charter form of government to the voters of the city.

City council believes this move will save $2,000. If the charter plan is approved, it will replace the municipal government now headed by Republican Mayor Harry C. Smith.

SYPHILIS AND SAFETY Syphilis is a disease which is found all over the world. It affects the young and the old; the rich and the poor.

It occurs in many different forms. Sometimes it causes much pain and suffering. Sometimes a person may have it for many years and feel perfectly well.

A person who has syphilis is never safe. He may be comfortable for years and suddenly have trouble.

Syphilis may cause a great variety of symptoms. It mimics all other diseases.

Blood tests are helpful in detecting the disease.

GLASSES AND GOGGLES Usually glasses are used to improve the eyesight.

Goggles are used to protect the eyes from injury. Sometimes they are combined so that they aid vision and protect the eyes at the same time.

Those whose work exposes the eyes to flying particles should have protection for the eyes. Goggles should be fitted so that they are comfortable and do not interfere with vision.

If they are uncomfortable they are likely to be laid aside just when they are most needed.

Goggles are not satisfactory which steam up when the wearer sweats.

DINING BESIDE YOUR WORST ENEMY

"Recently, I attended a dinner and sat alongside a man whom I dislike intensely. Ordinarily, I ignore him entirely. I did, however, acknowledge his greeting when I found myself sitting next to him, but said nothing more to him during the entire evening. This produced an uncomfortable silence whenever I happened to be near him. What should I have done?"

Answer: On all social occasions we must temporarily treat our worst enemies cordially. It is just as incorrect to flaunt one's enmities as it is one's affections during social functions.

You should have spoken briefly but pleasantly to him and then turned to the person on your other side. You might have avoided him after the dinner was over, but when you found yourself beside him, you should not have entirely ignored him.

Now that the dinner is over, you may, if you wish, resume your former attitude toward him and trust that you will not again find yourself in such an uncomfortable position. As a preventive of future embarrassment you may ask your future hostesses to seat you beside some other male guest.

Question: I have been invited to a tea — my first. Please give me advice on how to conduct myself.

Answer: After you have laid aside your wraps, go to the living room to greet your hostess. She will introduce you to those receiving with her (if there is a receiving line). If no one else arrives to take the hostess' attention, you may linger for a while and chat with her. But if she is occupied with other guests, move on to talk with others, or to dance (if there is dancing). Then go to the room wherein refreshments are being served. When you approach the "deputy" hostess who is pouring, she will ask your preference — lemon or cream and how much sugar, if any. If there is a maid present, she will take the tea from the hostess to you. If there is no maid, take your own tea and help yourself to sandwiches and cake and then seek a chair where you may drink and eat in comfort.

If you are a friend of the woman who pours your tea and she is not very busy, you may draw a chair near hers and talk with her for a while. But if she is busy, seat yourself somewhere.

Present your problems to Miss Marrel who will promptly send personal replies to questions from readers, enclosing stamped, addressed envelopes.

Early Delaware Records Found

DOVER, Del., April 2. — (INS) — Sussex County Court records dating back to 1680-1690, are being studied today by the Delaware State Archivist.

The records dated from 1680 when the county was under jurisdiction of the Duke of York to 1690 when it was under the proprietorship of William Penn. They were found in the eaves of an old Dover house being renovated.

A servant at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. Harold Mercer, clearing out trash, had thrown the yellowed pages into a rubbish container when Mrs. Mercer discovered them.

She notified the state archivist, who said they were among the earliest existing records for that section.

Scout Leaders Conduct Meeting

Girl Scout Leaders Association To Aid Local Scouts In National Project

Girl Scout Leaders Association met Tuesday evening in the scout offices, Greer building, and a clothing project for Europe was planned.

This national Girl Scout project will enable each girl scout troop to pack at least one kit to be sent overseas to needy children in war-torn countries. Girl scouts in the United States have as their goal, 500,000 of these kits to send abroad. Mrs. N. J. McCluskey was placed in charge of the radio publicity of this undertaking, and Mrs. Plummer D. Gibson, the newspaper publicity.

Maxine Bigley, president, and Mrs. C. M. Booher gave the program committee report. Announcement was made of the Fathers-Mothers-Daughters banquet on Thursday, May 13, at the Cathedral. Reservations are to be in by May 7.

The election committee, Mrs. Ruth Matthews, Mrs. Earl DeWolfe and Mrs. W. Walters, will choose new officers for the coming election in May. The work-shop will be held April 13, with "wood-carving" as the evening's subject. Mrs. C. C. McDermott was presented with her five year pin for excellent service in scouting.

College To Offer Driving Courses

Courses in General Safety Education and in Automobile Driver Education will be offered by the Slippery Rock State Teachers College during each of the two six-week summer sessions: June 7-July 16, and July 19-August 27, for the training of teachers of automobile driver education.

Students will receive three semester hours of credit for each course. The offering of these courses in Highway Safety Education is of special significance to all teachers of driver education in Pennsylvania because after September 1, 1948, a temporary standard certificate to teach driver education will be issued only to those applicants who hold a valid teachers certificate and who have completed three semester hours in the field of Highway Safety Education (Driver Education and Training) at an institution specifically approved for this type of preparation.

Drive slow—children move fast.

IN THE OPEN

The Easter bunny took a quick peek at the weather shortly after daybreak, shuddered violently, and settled back to wait it out in his snug "form" beneath the thorn bush. He had intended to sport his brand new cottontail in the cowpath parade, but the whirling snow storm changed his plans abruptly.

Even the webfoot choir in the marshlands, featuring solo performances by the famed spring peepers, cancelled its sunrise service as the driving snow whitened the countryside and tiny ice threads sewed at the edges of the concert ponds.

The retreating March, falling back before the surging tides of another spring, had mounted a strong rear guard action which drove the mercury well below the freezing mark. Expanding lilac buds shivered in their skimpy coats, thankful for the steady breeze which may have kept the icy fingers of the frost assassin from their throats.

The countryman sampled the morning and entered the day on the debit side of his hiking ledger. Advance announcements had promised the red-winged blackbirds in a treetop rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus. A quick survey failed to spot one of these red-shouldered starlings in the valley and the countryman went back to his fireside and the radio performance of Handel's stirring hymn of praise.

With typical March perversity the day blew itself along through alternate squalls and gusty clearings until the noon hour found the last trace of the snowfall dissipated and the remnants of the cottony clouds scudding behind the far hills.

Despite this last ditch stand of the dying March a showy group of daffodils nodded and gossiped in the lawns. These hardy fellows had been transferred from a mountain vale in the trout country where they had sprung from ancestors planted there in the yard of a pioneer cabin long since reduced to a few mounds by the streamside.

On the few sunny banks which this rare little fellow has condescended to occupy the tiny snow trillium is now showing its three white petals through the tight mound of tri-parted leaves. In the rich open woodlands the little flower known as the Harbinger of Spring has been blooming for several days. This is such a modest blossom that the outdoorsman is often unaware of the tiny wildling pushing through the leaves at his feet.

A few hardy hepaticas are blooming where the sun has been able to get in some extra licks. I note the irrepressible chickweed in full flower and a few dandelion blooms at protected spots about the lawns. Another day or two and March will be in the records and fled away as April comes on stage to steal the outdoor show.

In dens and cellars and home workshops throughout the countryside trout fishermen and would-be trout anglers are now cleaning reels and varnishing fly rods in preparation for the good days, in mid-April when the little brookies once more become fair game. All this work should have been done last fall when the season ended, but half the fun of fishing is the early April preparation.

The so-called purist is now engaged in the tedious task of tying up a batch of "flies" on tiny eyed hooks. He'll hit the stream on opening day, find the water high and roiled, and will scratch around for water worms and minnows like all his brother anglers, while the bright new flies languish untouched in his showy plastic fly box.

These are the evenings of day-dreams, when every trout ever caught is taken all over again in memory as the hip-boot addict sorts out his swivels and double hooks, makes sure of his supply of "sinker" shot, and fabricates dozens of leaders from rolls of synthetic "gut". Some day soon there will be a great digging in the corner of the garden, and a tremendous harvesting of angle-worms of all sizes.

The countryman looks eagerly ahead, but deep in his heart he feels a trace of sadness as another March closes its book. March days are always heady stirring days outdoors, full of bluster and deriding-do, like a mettlesome colt before he feels the curb, and the check rein.

SASSY FRASS

Urges U. S. Get Tough With Reds

PHILADELPHIA, April 2. — (INS)—Gen. William J. Donovan last night urged a "get tough" policy toward Russia.

The wartime head of the U.S. spy service told a life insurance company dinner in Philadelphia that current U.S. policies are "disintegrating our prestige abroad and disturbing our living and economic situation at home."

Watch Sneak-Up "The Marshall Plan," Donovan said, "is a weapon that can be used but it is not the whole solution for this present subversive sneak-up war with a technique that takes advantage of hunger, greed, and disturbances abroad."

"One of the ways to fight the war," he continued, "is to assure the countries friendly to us in Europe that we will support them economically—and physically. And we should be quick to impose a reprisal on Russia for every indignity and every insult."

TWO HOSPITALIZED DILLSBURG, Pa., April 2. — (INS)—State Police reported that two men were injured today when a heavily-laden tractor-trailer failed to negotiate a curve and crashed into a retaining wall at Rose Garden, three miles north of Dillsburg.

Police said Richard Williams, 30, of Pittsburgh, and Steve Biro, 23, of Cleveland, were taken to Harrisburg Hospital.

Weeks Of Debate Faces UN Session

First Estimates Of Scope Of Difficulties Ahead To Be Made By Monday

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., April 2. (INS)—The special session of the United Nations General Assembly, convoked by the security council for April 16 to reconsider the Palestine situation is headed for troublesome weeks of debate.

The first estimates of the extent and scope of difficulties ahead at Flushing Meadows will be available on Monday afternoon. The 11 members of the U. N. Security Council are invited to appear at that time in the mid-Manhattan headquarters of the United States delegation.

Warren R. Austin, head of the American team at Lake Success, intervened against any meeting of the council between today and Tuesday, to give the delegates an opportunity to get together in his office "for informal conversations regarding temporary trusteeship for Palestine."

The delegates were quick to sense a maneuver apparently to draw the Security Council into backing the temporary trusteeship plan and remained non-committal. Soviet Delegate Andrei Gromyko and others said they will leave it up to their home governments to decide their next step.

Good Taste

By FRANCINE MARKEL

"BREAKING THE ICE AT A PARTY"

I have just been married and about to make my first attempt at entertaining. Thus far, I have noted that in this community, which is strange to me, the people at parties seem to be stiff and slow in getting well acquainted. How should I proceed to help them know one another better?

Answer:—It is your social duty to share your conversation with all those seated near you—whether at a dinner, tea or reception. Never be responsible for leaving someone "out in the cold." If a guest seems to be deserted and quiet, try bringing him into the conversation by occasionally turning to him and saying—"Don't you think so, Mr. Smith?"

During a dance, the hostess should continually ask the men who are not dancing to dance with the women being left in the wall-flower line. A very thoughtful hostess when asked to dance will often suggest: "I am too busy just now and I do want you to take this dance with Mary over there."

In a social set, such as you describe, women are neglected not so much because they are unattractive as because the men are socially lazy. See to it that your husband takes them in hand, one by one, and asks them to dance with the neglected women and girls whether they are glamorous or not.

Question: When riding in a public vehicle, should the man or the woman get off and on first?
Answer: The man should stand aside to allow his woman companion to enter first while he stands by to assist her. He should alight first so that he may step down to the street and assist her as she gets off. I have noticed that the majority of men who ride in public vehicles evidently do not know this. They invariably stand aside to let the woman out first.

Miss Markel will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Tax Sales Are Bringing Cash

County Making Money On Properties Taken In For Delinquent Taxes

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE HILL

Delinquent tax sales, a large number of which have been held during the past few months, are beginning to bring the county in real money, a resume of these sales shows.

During the depression years, the county fell heir to a considerable amount of property on which the former owners either could not, or would not pay the taxes.

Much of this was sold off at a loss by the county, lots going for as low as $25 a few years back, just to get it back into taxation again.

The other day, however, the commissioners sold a property on which the assessed valuation was only $600, for $2,000. There were three bidders for the property, and the price was bid up to a fancy figure, before it finally went to the highest one at this price.

NO LICENSES THURSDAY

Evidently a lot of romantic couples figured that April 1, All Fools Day, was a poor day on which to procure a marriage license, as not a single license had been issued by noon.

All the longer some marriages last, it would seem that most any day is a bad day. Some couples take out a license, get married, and separate within a week, later to find their way into the divorce courts.

BEAUTIFY GROUNDS

The court house custodial force is busy these days, spring house cleaning around the court house property, and getting the shrubbery and lawn in shape for the summer. A dressing of sawdust from green lumber has been placed around the evergreens, it is noted.

Give County Averages For Attendance Contest

The Easter attendances for the Sunday schools in the districts outside of New Castle participating in the eight weeks pre-Easter campaign sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association in which 75 Sunday schools were enrolled, were good throughout and most of the Sunday schools had the best attendance of the campaign March 28th. In addition to the Sunday school attendance goal, the other three phases, church attendance, Evangelism and Bible study were properly stressed with encouraging results.

The winners for the seven districts outside of New Castle, were as follows: Ellwood, the First Baptist; Wilmington, the Eastbrook Methodist; Mt. Jackson, the Mission Covenant of Bessemer; Wampum, the Newport Methodist; King's Chapel Methodist was the winner of Pulaski district, the Princeton Presbyterian of Slippery Rock district and the Plaingrove Presbyterian of Plaingrove district.

In Ellwood district the First Baptist was closely followed by the First Methodist in second place, and the First Presbyterian and Trinity Lutheran in third and fourth places, respectively. The highest attendance of the campaign, 402, was set by the First United Presbyterian Easter. In Wilmington district, the Eastbrook Methodist, was followed by the Shenango U. P. and the Neshannock Presbyterian, and in Mt. Jackson district four Sunday schools were closely grouped, in order, as follows: Mission Covenant, Enon Valley Presbyterian, Hillsville Methodist and the Mt. Jackson U. P. In Wampum district, the Newport Methodist with a very large percentage was followed by the Moravia Presbyterian, also with a large percentage figure, and the Wampum Presbyterian was in third place.

The relative standings of the three remaining districts, will be published tomorrow.

Three Candidates Using Wisconsin As 'Battleground'

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 2.—(INS)—Wisconsin voters are absorbing political fanfare in large portions today when they wait to choose between McArthur, Dewey and Stassen at next Tuesday's presidential primary.

The campaign of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey to win the state delegation to the Republican national convention for the third time moved into high gear as the New Yorker stumped the state on a two-day "quickie" tour.

Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, has been ranging the state for a month and will make his bid for delegates right up to the day before the primary.

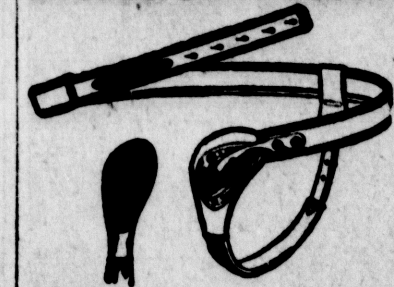

The popular move for General Douglas MacArthur, Wisconsin's favorite son candidate, is being guided down to the wire by Phil LaFollette, former Wisconsin governor and son of "Fighting Bob", and Lansing Hoyt, president of the MacArthur-for-President clubs.

All three factions are confident their candidates can capture a majority of the state's 27 delegates—seven at large and two from each of the 10 districts.

CHURCH SERVICES

This evening at 8 o'clock will be special youth night in the U. P. church with Dr. W. J. Harper McKnight, college pastor of Westminster college, giving the address.

Bible school Sunday morning at 10:10 with Clyde Shelenberger, supt. At the session new officers will be elected and teachers chosen. Worship service at 11 a. m. with the communion service conducted by the pastor, Rev. Hugh Snodgrass.

A group of young people from the high school furnished special music for the Easter evening services at the Second U. P. church in New Castle under the direction of Mrs. Robert McCrumb.

The congregational meeting of the U. P. church on Tuesday evening was well attended. The two elders who were elected are Dr. James Burton and Neal Edie. The reports given showed a very good year. Following business, a very tasty lunch was served by Edwin Houston's class.

SUFFERS HEART

ATTACK ON BUS
David McConehy, 900 Morton street, aged 82, suffered a heart attack on a Grant street bus en route downtown Thursday.

The driver of the bus drove the vehicle to the New Castle hospital where Mr. McConehy was admitted shortly before noon. His condition is reported as fair by hospital authorities.

RICHMAN BROTHERS

The Reckless Spending Days are Over

Today men want their money's worth, and we at Richman Brothers are glad of it—because when men want true value they appreciate the extra quality and extra moderate prices that Richman Brothers offer them.

That's why you'll see so many men buying their clothes here this Spring. They know, by experience, that Richman Brothers Clothes give them the good appearance, the fitting perfection and the fabric and tailoring quality generally found only in clothes sold at high prices.

We don't claim to be magicians—but 69 years of experience in making our own clothes and selling them in our own stores are big advantages in this business of value-giving. Stop in for your next suit or topcoat. See for yourself why everybody's saying, "Now, more than ever, Richman Brothers Have the Values."

New Manager Comes To Local Office

G. W. Lucas will arrive in New Castle over the weekend from Staunton, Va., to take up new duties on Monday as manager of the National Cash Register office here which serves a six-county area, Lawrence, Butler, Armstrong, Clarion, Beaver and Mercer counties.

He will take over in the stead of Arthur R. Heissman, for a number of years, connected with the local office as manager. Mr. Heissman will assume charge of the Albany, N. Y., office of the National Cash Register Company on April 5.

YOUNG WILLKIE GETS "BUG"

RUSHVILLE, Ind., April 2.—(INS)—Philip Willkie, 28, Thursday announced that he would seek the Republican nomination for representative in the Indiana General Assembly from Rush and Henry counties.

Young Willkie is the son of the late Wendell Willkie, 1940 GOP presidential nominee.

LEGION-WRECKERS

BALTIMORE.—(INS)—Vandal recently wrecked the clubhouse of the Fort McKinley American Legion post in Baltimore. Legion officials are conducting an investigation but as yet have not discovered the culprits. The intruders jimmied a window, ripped down American flags, threw empty beer bottles at a framed copy of the Constitution, and smashed patriotic pictures which were hanging on the wall. There also was evidence that an attempt had been made to start a fire to the post.

Believes Building Costs Will Be High For Years

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1948, Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)
NEW YORK, April 2.—There are many factors connected with new building today which should hold up costs for some time. Most of the increase is due to two main causes:

Why Building Costs Are High
(1) The increased powers of labor unions causing higher wages, shorter hours and poorer work.

This is partly due to the higher cost of living, restrictions as to apprentices, and the increased demand for houses. This labor cost applies from the cutting of timber in the forests through every step of transportation, milling, superintending, marketing, etc., up to the real estate man who sells the house. Moreover, this costly situation is encouraged by federal and state labor laws, municipal codes, social security deductions and a dozen more additions.

(2) Another factor is the taxes which must be paid by those who cut the tree, mill the timber, sell the lumber and other building material—as well as the taxes which the contractor must pay. These all snowball up one another with this result: The house which ten years ago cost $6,000 now costs $12,000, but 50 per cent of this increase is due to the increased taxes which our present administration at Washington collects.

Houses Recently Built
In view of the above, I seriously doubt if the cost of building new houses will decline much for some years. It is true that the quality of building materials should improve and that labor may give more value for a dollar of wages because non-union labor competition will become more plentiful. Ultimately, there will be a decline in building costs to a point about half way between the cost of ten years ago and the cost today. Even such a decline, however, is some time away. So much for new construction.

Now as to the price during the next few years of houses already built. There is no building boom ahead. Residential building in 1948 may be less than in 1947; while 1949 may be less than 1948 owing to war preparation restrictions. When universal training and the draft take effect, contractors may begin to unload. They may be glad to get out even and some will be forced to take losses. It's all a question of supply and demand influenced by war preparations. Thus far more people have been moving into most cities—especially returning veterans—than there were houses. Now some of these people will wish to leave and to sell their houses. At first, this may be easy; but after the supply of such houses exceeds the present demand—prices could crumble fast. So much for houses built during the past three years.

What About Old Houses?
The most attractive thing in real estate—outside of property located in the best sections of small cities. These can still be bought for half what they would cost new—and in many cases are better than they could be built today at any price. As people become more war conscious and as the draft takes young men, they will gladly sell their homes in large cities and move into safe communities.

Hence, while big city property is going down in price, these small city properties may be going up in price. If you own such a house, continue to hold it. If you live in a good section, buy a house next to you as an investment. Many of these old houses will double in price while the new houses built for veterans during the past few years may sell at perhaps one half of what is now being asked for them. Unless you want one of these now, then wait for distressed sales.

What About War Outlook?
A great question is whether a war boom honeymoon is again ahead of us? If so, houses, ranches and most city property could hold up awhile longer. There will be no war this year; but the very preparation for war should stimulate certain buying and retard other buying. One thing that looks good are certain large houses—now on the market at very low prices—which can be made over into apartments. There will always be a demand for well-located apartments. Even these you should live in or near and attend to. There now is no easy way to make money in real estate.

Young ladies of St. Joseph's church Sodality will receive holy communion in a body at the eight o'clock mass Sunday morning.

The Settlers Tunnel in Owyhee county, Idaho, built in 1870 and used for protection against Indians is still in a good state of preservation. It is a huge room built of hard clay bank without the use of timber.

Elks-Boosters End Tourney Tonight

Finale Pits Powerful Quints In Title Clash

Tonight at the George Washington high floor finis will be written to the big city-county cage tournament with the playing of the championship encounter between the New Castle Elks and the East Brook Boosters.

The main feature will be preceded by a consolation tilt between the Ellwood Sportsmen and the Morella Dairy Bar, both eliminated in the semi-finals Wednesday evening.

One can throw a lot of adjectives around extolling the merits of the two titlists involved, but however you look at it this appears to be one of the best matches of the waning season—a virtual classic between two quints which have been itching to get at each other all winter.

The Boosters, under the capable hand of Marvin Kuth, have blossomed out as one of the county's floor powers—a tall, well-seasoned outfit that can play "race-horse" ball or bedevil the opposition with a "cat and mouse" game, deliberate and machine-like.

Big guns in the attack are Carl Jameson, bell-ringing outer court shot, and Mike Ringer, 18-year-old phenom who set Mercer county cage circles buzzing until he was found to be over age for the scholastic game. Big Mike will be going up against his counterpart in Freddy "Frits" Wimer of the Elks. Many followers of the sport claim that Ringer is a bigger edition of the Salem college flash in every respect but the wad of chewing tobacco.

Clark At Center
"Slim" Clark will anchor the center slot and make his backboard patrolling felt. The guards are Art Morrow and Fox.

Elks Have Slight Edge
Nevertheless, the Elks, recently crowned city champs (they bested the vaunted K. Pulaskis in a three-game series) must be rated a slight edge in tonight's classic.

The Morrison men, with Wimer good for better than 10 points each game, and equal threats in Bob Fizer and Donnie Waters, work as smoothly on the floor as the Rockette chorus line and this team, forged over a long and grueling campaign, makes them three to five point favorites.

Pitzer and Waters will man the forwards tonight, with Wimer jumping center. "Pop" Adams and Tom Carey will handle the guards.

Doors will open at 8:30 and the bell going at 7:30. The championship clash will begin at 8:30.

A packed gym is seen for one of the truly fine attractions of the season. Many of the fans were hoping the Boosters and the Elks would emerge as finalists. They have, and a real thriller is on the docket.

Softball Loop Has Eight Teams
Eight softball teams sought franchises in the city softball league at the "Y" last night. It was announced today by Rocco P. Vignano, president. It is hoped that by starting time ten teams will complete the circuit.

Another meeting has been called for next Thursday at which time the franchises will be closed. Any team not in by next week will be left out.

The following teams had representatives at the meeting last night—Tempy's Beach, Duca D'Abuzzis, Shady-side Tigers, National Guard, New Castle Business College, Red's Dairy, East Side Shamrocks and United Engineering.

Derby Dandy

TOPHEAVY favorite for the Kentucky Derby, Citation, three-year-old colt owned by the Calumet Farm, is escorted by his trainer, Jimmy Jones, up a railroad ramp at Miami, Fla., en route to Maryland where he will run in tune-up races. Citation will be moved to Louisville shortly before the Derby, May 1. (International)

Irwin Engages Bridgeport Hi; Glassers Ready
Black Knights Hoping To Secure Second 'B' Toga; Forders Play Saturday

PHILADELPHIA, April 2.—(INS)—A capacity crowd of 8,500 is expected to witness Norristown oppose Ford City high school for the class A state championship of the PIAA tournament tomorrow night in the Palestra in Philadelphia.

Irwin, meets Bridgeport in the class B finals tonight in Lancaster. Ford City practiced yesterday in the Palestra and concentrated on field goal shots.

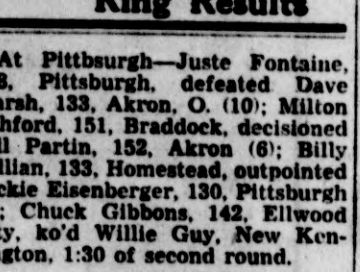

Hubert Rupert, the Glassers' coach, was impressed by the marksmanship of Ed Hallas, giant center, and John Portasik, guard.

Ford City will have the height advantage what with John Gurski and Bill Engler, six-foot forwards. Guard Howard Zerick moved up to a regular berth following disqualification of a starter.

Palestra officials said that some 3,000 fans from Ford City are expected to watch the match. The Ford City five is quartered at the Penn-Sheraton hotel.

Angelo Mazzocca Seeking Tryout
Another young New Castle flier is seeking a tryout with the Mid-Atlantic league team here. He is Angelo Mazzocca of 212 East Clayton street, in Mahoningtown. Mazzocca is 21 and 6 foot one inch tall. He is a right-hand heaver. He has been pitching in the city league here, and also had a stint with the Jay Bees last year.

Citation Hotter Than Ever

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 2.—(INS)—Citation's hotter than ever! With the 74th running of the Kentucky Derby still a month away, the nation's big-time bookmakers today have stopped taking future bets on the great Calumet farm speedster to finish fourth in the Derby.

A revised quotation issued today shows Citation a prohibitive 7-to-5 for win, 3-to-5 for place, 1-to-3 for show—and "out" for fourth. In other words, even if it's not an iron-bound certainty that Citation will start in the Kentucky Derby, the bookies figure to take a trimming by handling bets that the Bull Lea horse will finish fourth or better.

Coalition, Citation's rocket-like stablemate, is favored second in the new "line" at 6-to-1. Other revised win prices on well-regarded Derby eligibles are:

Butter Self, 15-to-1; My Request, Salsmagundi and Whirling Fox, 20-to-1 each; Escadr, Star Boat and Bewitch, 25-to-1 each; Piet, Saggy and Free America, 30-to-1 each.

Booster Tickets Are Distributed

Thirteen Different Places In New Castle And Lawrence County Selling Banquet Tickets

Tickets for the big Booster club testimonial banquet at the Cathedral on the night of Wednesday, April 21, have been placed in 13 business spots in New Castle and Lawrence county, it was announced today by Ticket Chairman Robert M. Mills.

With the placing of tickets over such a wide area, it is believed that many will have an opportunity to buy them. The tickets are selling for $2. It is hoped to have at least 1,000 at the dinner honoring the New Castle team of the Mid-Atlantic league.

Seek National Speaker
The program committee is attempting to line up a group of nationally known baseball men as speakers for the dinner, such as Hank Greenberg, Ralph Kiner, "Happy" Chandler, Honus Wagner, Cy Young and Pie Traynor.

It is hoped that out of the above list at least two or three of them can be secured. A toastmaster is also being sought for the banquet. Several prominent New Castle business and professional men have been suggested.

Members of the Booster club will meet again Monday at the Cathedral hotel at which time final plans for the banquet will be made. General Chairman Richard E. Rentz would like to have a full turnout of Booster members. This is a big civic undertaking and the help of everybody is needed to put it over.

Where To Get Tickets
Tickets, according to Mills, can be secured at the following places: Gersons Jewelry store, Butz Florists, Sporting Goods store, New Castle News, Joe Hoyle's service station on S. Jefferson street, Hyde's Drug store in Mahoningtown, St. Joseph's church parish house, Hite's Dairy, West Washington street; Mick's service station, Croton avenue; Watkins Insurance and Real Estate Agency, North street; Oscar Levine's Men's store, Long avenue; Zarlengo's at Hillsville and the Bessemer police station.

So let's get busy, folks, and buy some tickets. The ladies and children will enjoy the banquet just as much as the men folks. Let's show the New Castle team of the Mid-Atlantic that we appreciate having them here.

Prepare Canfield For Midget Races
Workmen are busily engaged in preparing the Canfield Speedway for the opening midget auto race of the season which will be held at the Canfield Fairgrounds on Saturday night, April 24, with time trials starting at 7:00 and the first event at 8:30 p. m.

The American Automobile Association is again sanctioning all events at the Canfield Speedway, thus assuring the fans of very highly competitive racing.

Many new cars and drivers will be on hand for the gala opener on April 24.

Roy Sherman of Los Angeles in his new beautiful and powerful Curtis-Kraft Offenhouser is one of the early entrants for the coming Saturday night events.

He's a Coach Now

FEARING that playing baseball may result in an injury which would harm his football career, Charley Trippi, the All-American grid star of the Chicago Cardinals, won't play baseball this year but will coach the University of Georgia team. Trippi played with the Atlanta Crackers last season. (International)

Briefs From Major Camps

(International News Service)
Rapid Robert Feller, Cleveland's ace pitcher, is going to be bad news for rival American league clubs again this season, as usual.

Bob the gob pitched six shutout innings yesterday as the Indians beat the Chicago White Sox, 6 to 1.

Joe Hatten, Brooklyn southpaw, pitching against minor opposition, became the first Dodger hurler to go nine innings this year and held the Montreal Royals to one hit and subdued them 8 to 2.

Charley (King Kong) Keller, ailing outfielder of the Yankees, returned to action for the first time since last June and looked to be up to par as the New Yorkers swamped the Phillies, 10 to 1. Joe DiMaggio whacked a two-run homer.

Boston's Braves nosed out the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 3, in the tenth inning.

A two-run homer by Bob Thomson in the ninth gave the New York Giants a 6-5 win over the Pirates. Ralph Kiner, the Pittsburgh strong boy, whacked a three-run homer for Pittsburgh.

Chicago's Cubs blanked the St. Louis Browns, 5 to 0.

In games involving minor league opposition, the Boston Red Sox beat Louisville, 4 to 3, and the Athletics nosed out Toronto, 3 to 2.

Corum Goes Out On Shaky Limb; Picks Flag Winners

City League Starts May 9; 44-Game Card

By BILL CORUM
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, April 2.—(INS)—Now that this column has picked the Brooklyn Dodgers and Detroit Tigers to win the pennants, the question arises whether Commissioner Chandler and Presidents Frick and Harridge will elect to play the World's Series before the season starts, or after it is over.

A spring world's series would be a novelty. But there is the question of the weather to consider. In addition to which there might be an understandable reluctance on the part of the baseball bigwigs to depart from custom.

You readers understand, of course, that these are our annual April Fool's Day selections for the coming year in sports.

We have indulged ourselves in this sort of piece for more than 20 years, and the strangest thing about it is that now and again we have surprised everybody, including the writer, by picking a winner.

Before we give you the final standings of the two big leagues as of Sept. 30, 1948, we might just as well tip-off Will Harridge to the news that the National League will win the all-star game this summer.

Now here is how the finish of the pennant races shape up in our book:

American League
1.—Detroit 6.—Philadelphia
2.—Boston 7.—St. Louis
3.—New York 8.—Chicago
4.—Cleveland
National League
1.—Brooklyn 5.—Cincinnati
2.—St. Louis 6.—Pittsburgh
3.—Boston 7.—Philadelphia
4.—New York 8.—Chicago

Which may raise the question of whether Chicago is still in the leagues. I'm not quite sure. There seems to have been some question about that in recent years, and little or nothing has been done about it.

GRAZIANO 3 TO 1 OVER SONNY HORNE
WASHINGTON, April 2.—(INS)—World Middleweight Champion Rocky Graziano, was quoted an early three to one favorite today for his 10-round non-title fight with George "Sonny" Horne at Uline Arena next Monday night.

Graziano arrived in Washington last night to commence training for the scrap and confirmed reports that he will defend his title at Newark, N. J., on June 9 against Tony Zale.

Bucs Now Below .500 Mark, Lose Fifth In A Row

PHOENIX, Ariz., April 2. — (INS)—The Pittsburgh Pirates, today were below the .500 mark for the first time, as they dropped their fifth straight ball game in a row.

A ninth inning home run by Bobby Thompson, with Buddy Blatner aboard, enabled the New York Giants to defeat the Bucs, 6-5.

Thompson's blow nullified four masters by Ed Stevens, with a man on, and Ralph Kiner, with two mates aboard.

The win gave the Ottmen the spring series with the Pirates, five games to one.

Pitcher Jim Walsh, with three scoreless frames, may have earned himself a permanent place, for this season, on Billy Meyer's pitching staff.

PROTEST RUMORED

PARIS, April 2. — (INS)—The newspaper France-Soir quoted unconfirmed reports today that American, British and France will make an official protest to Premier Stalin regarding the Russian blocking of rail lines leading to Berlin.

The reports, carried in a London dispatch, said that the protest might be made within 48 hours.

The body of the orang-utan is bulky and the legs are short and comparatively weak, but the arms are so long that they reach to the ankles when the animal is erect, and are very muscular.

Woman's Auxiliary Plans Activities

New Castle Hospital Organization Prepares For Future Fund-Raising Projects

Thursday at 2 p. m., the Woman's Auxiliary, a branch of the Woman's Board of the New Castle Hospital, met in their meeting rooms, with Mrs. William Strawbridge in charge, and important activities were discussed to be held in the very near future.

Prior to the Auxiliary meeting, the Woman's Board with President Mrs. J. Lumen Popp convened at one o'clock.

All members attending presented a hand-made hankie to the Auxiliary gift shop, assisting in the send-off opening of the shop, scheduled for next week.

The gift shop will be located on the second floor of the hospital, with a show-case to be in the main hospital lobby.

Proceeds for this project will be added to the Woman's Board fund to be used for any expressed purpose to aid in the upkeep of the hospital and to aid hospital patients.

Committee Reports
Various committees made reports, and Mrs. Alfonso Scarazzo reported that her group are well on the way in making large quantities of garments for the children's department of the hospital. These women have met faithfully every Thursday afternoon to sew for this worthy cause. Now the sewing project is certain to be a success.

The surgical dressing department are working diligently in making dressings for the hospital, and any person interested is urged to contact Mrs. Pete Mancino, in charge of this particular division.

Mrs. Harry Jones, was appointed chairman of a thrift sale slated for Saturday, May 1, in the Ecclesian club. As usual the proceeds will be used for worthy purposes at the hospital.

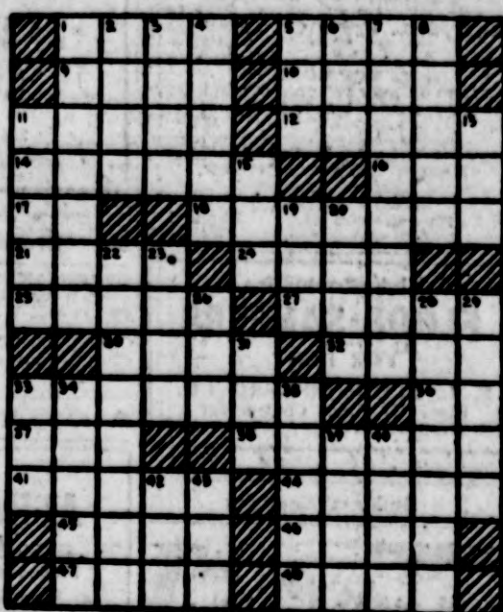

Fourteen new members were present, and all in the Woman's Board is rapidly expanding, with new groups being added to the Woman's Auxiliary and other working divisions. Sister Mary John, is the superintendent of the New Castle Hospital.

Bright colors in flowers promote cross-pollination. For most flowers better seeds and more seeds are obtained if pollen is carried from one flower to another, rather than obtained in the same flower or from flowers on the same plant.

Insects associate bright flower colors with pollination.

BARONS-BISONS GIRL FOR CALDER CUP PLAY-OFFS

CLEVELAND, April 2. — (INS)

The records stood at four down and four to go as the Cleveland Barons girded themselves to meet the Buffalo Bisons in a battle for the American Hockey League championship.

Last night the Barons, back on home ice and back in the groove, outclassed the Providence Reds, 8-1, for the fourth time in five games to capture the first round of the Calder Cup playoffs.

Johnny Holota, Baron center, led the Cleveland scoring with two goals and two assists. Holota tallied the Baron's first two goals and assisted on the next two.

The four-of-seven finals between the Clevelanders and the Buffalo Bisons will start tomorrow night at the arena. That is the only game that is set, but the exact dates of the remaining contests may be determined today.

NEW AKRON DIRECTOR

AKRON, O., April 2. — (INS)—Kenneth "Red" Cochran, 40, former Akron university nine-letter man, has been named as the university's new athletic director.

Cochran, director of health and safety for the Erie, Pa., school system, succeeds Russell Brightly, present athletic director, who in September will step down to the position of head basketball and baseball coach.

The board of directors of the university approved Cochran's appointment shortly after selecting William "Budd" Houghton of Massillon as the new head football coach.

VETERANS!

Could you use a GRADE in the U. S. Army?

A non-commissioned officer in the U. S. Army makes good money. The take-home pay of a Sergeant is equal to that of the average civilian making $4,000 a year. If YOU held one of certain military occupational specialties during the war, you may be able to enlist in the Army today in a grade as high as Technical Sergeant. Your former grade and the length of time you held your specialty will determine which grade you receive. You'll get good, steady work. Excellent opportunities for advancement. You may also choose service in Europe, with 20% extra pay. For all the facts, apply at the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force Recruiting Station located in Room 209, Post Office Building.

Truman Program Of Civil Rights Is Challenged

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., April 2. — (INS)—Gov. William M. Tuck of Virginia today presented a challenge to President Truman's civil rights program as the chief executive met with him on the historic campus of William and Mary college.

The southern governor, who has been one of the most outspoken opponents of the Dixie "revolt" against Mr. Truman's renomination and re-election, said in his speech of acceptance of a college degree: "Freedom, liberty and democracy are not to be had for the asking without effort and without sacrifice."

"They are attained and preserved only by the exercise of constant vigilance and by continuous struggle."

"We understand the fundamental rights and privileges of democracy. Our forefathers, as Virginians and as Americans, sacrificed too much for us to surrender them without a struggle."

"Virginians are as determined today to strive for the preservation of these imperishable values as were our gallant forebears in the long ago."

Reds Anti-Aircraft Guns Don't Menace Aerial Corridor

WASHINGTON, April 2. — (INS)

Gen. Carl Spaatz, retiring air force chief, said today that Russia has anti-aircraft guns in the Berlin area, but none of them apparently are in the aerial corridor through which American planes fly to the German capital.

Spaatz told a news conference that there have been no reports of the Russians objecting to U. S. planes flying supplies into Berlin.

He said that air travel into the German capital has been unrestricted except for normal limitations which require planes to follow a corridor into the city.

Air Secretary Symington said that "air power is getting to be much more interesting in Germany this morning."

War Vet To Open 'Dry' Night Club

Robert Baldwin, 23 year old Pacific war veteran, will offer New Castle something new in the way of entertainment, when he opens the "Blue-Jay Sandwich Shop" at 103 North Mercer street, on Saturday, April 3.

In the form of a "dry" night club, it will offer dining and dancing, catering to couples during the evening hours. A convenient snack bar will be operated separately from the dining room for rapid service of patrons.

Mr. Baldwin has completely redecorated the "Blue-Jay" in light blue and natural colors. Comfortable booths for couples and larger parties have been installed. He is featuring a stable dance floor and good music.

Robert Baldwin has been associated with his brother, Russell, in the restaurant business for some time and will operate his new venture for the convenience of his customers.
